Men and Women for Others

December 9, 2016

Coaches, Wrestlers and Fans,

Welcome to the 23rd Annual Walsh Jesuit Ironman Tournament. We are pleased to announce that once again Ron Marhofer Chevrolet is sponsoring this year's tournament, which features over 100 schools from 25 different states. We are very grateful to The Ron Marhofer Auto Family for his continued support.

On behalf of Walsh Jesuit High School President Karl Ertle, and Principal Mark Hassman, I extend a warm welcome to the many coaches, wrestlers and wrestling fans that have come to support their teams. Welcome also to collegiate coaches who will attend this event –you will see some of the best wrestlers in the United States this weekend! The Walsh Jesuit Warrior wrestling team looks forward to hosting this event and to making certain the event is memorable for all of you.

The Ironman Tournament is a collaborative effort of our entire school community and is successful largely because of the efforts of our faculty, staff, coaches, students, parents, and alumni who willingly volunteer their time, treasure, and talents. Special acknowledgement and thanks to team director Bob Preusse, seeding director Corey Haddad and our high powered technical staff of Chris Kallai, Sr. and Chris Kallai, Jr. for their expertise and tireless efforts to make this tournament that Sports Illustrated has called “ the toughest high school tournament in the nation.” Special thanks also to Walsh Jesuit tournament coordinator Bill Reilly, Steve Walko and Noelle Johnson who will coordinate the concessions and to John Mascio who manages and oversees the publication of our Ironman Media Guide and Record Book. Finally, we acknowledge and thank Walsh Jesuit trainer Mark Herbele and his staff, plus the staff from Akron General Sports and Physical Therapy for their professionalism and care for our athletes.

Please enjoy yourselves this weekend. This is some of the best wrestling you will ever see. Please remember to “RESPECT THE GAME” and show good sportsmanship to all athletes, coaches, and officials. GOOD LUCK to all wrestlers.

Finally, CONGRATULATIONS to Dave Riggs, our 2016 Ironman Legacy Award honoree.

Sincerely,

Barb Salata

“A Storied Career From the Mat to the Coaches Chair”

Dave Riggs brings a portfolio of wrestling accomplishments to the 13th annual Ironman Legacy Award that most hedge fund managers would love to invest in. Those accomplishments are chronicled on the opposite page.

There are very few wrestling coaches who are more synonymous with the word “Legacy” than Dave Riggs. To include his name in this prestigious group is fitting.

Riggs said: “I am extremely honored and humbled to be considered for this award. I accept it with love and respect for the Walsh Jesuit Ironman Tournament”.

Long time Walsh Jesuit and Hall of Fame Coach Bill Barger said: “Riggs is the ultimate ambassador for high school wrestling. He has set the standard for decades and will be the benchmark for years to come. Riggs is one of a kind”.

On The Mat

Dave Riggs holds the distinction of becoming Coventry High School’s first state champion in 1973 at 105 pounds and finished as runner-up in 1974. Riggs had an individual record of 63-4 in high school and received a scholarship to the University of Arizona where he was a four year wrestler and team captain. Dave was a PAC-10 Conference runner up and competed in the Olympic trials in 1980.

From the Coaches Corner

Riggs coaching experience began as a Grad Assistant at the University of Arizona and progressed to several high schools before being named head coach at Massillon Perry in 1986 until his retirement after the 2015 season. Although he coached state champion wrestlers at both Medina Highland and Ontario, Riggs greatest legacy occurred while at Massillon Perry where he coached 28 state champions and 48 state finalists. Three of his wrestlers went on to capture NCAA championships: Thomas Straughn (Division III) Notre Dame College, Dustin Schlatter (Division I) Minnesota and Steve Luke (Division I) Michigan. Schlatter was also a two time (2001 and 2004) Ironman champion and named Ironman Outstanding Wrestler in 2004. Luke was a four time Ironman placer and 160 pound champion in 2003.

When asked to summarize his Ironman experience Riggs said: “The Ironman tournament is an extremely competitive tournament with a lot of highs and lows throughout a two day period. This tournament has all the necessary ingredients that will permit an individual coach to be the “best possible coach” and at the same time, it can also humble the best coaches in the country. We are very grateful for this level of competition, because it magnifies the slightest imperfections in our wrestlers which benefits in the preparation of our coaching staff and wrestlers for the Ohio State High School Wrestling Championships.”

Stephen Luke, who was an Ironman Champion, OHSAA state champion and NCAA Champion wrestled for Coach Riggs at Massillon Perry fondly reclass his Ironman days. “It has always amazed me of the level of competition at the Ironman and it is evident when wrestlers fail to place at the Ironman but go on later that year and win a state championship. I appreciated the competition of the Ironman even more when I competed at the University of Michigan. The same individuals that I would warm-up next to and compete against in high school at the Ironman were the same individuals I would see in college at the Big Ten Championships and NCAA Championships. While many of the best coaches in the country attended the Ironman I was honored to have the best in my corner in Coach Riggs. Coach Riggs mentored me from grade school all the way through college and without his leadership, support, and commitment year-round I would not have had half the success in my wrestling career.

The Major Ray Mendoza

Individual Team Points Award

This award is presented to an individual wrestler who scores the most points for his respective team. It is an objective award based on specific results rather than subjective opinion. The award was created by Col. (ret) David Ritterpusch, author of "The Standard Of Excellence", an extensive history of wrestling at the iconic Blair Academy. The award was first presented at the 2009 Walsh Jesuit Ironman Wrestling Tournament, and was subsequently presented at the Beast of the East and National Prep tournaments. It will remain as an exclusive award at these three tournaments.

Individual wrestlers who have earned this award.

2009 - Nick Sulzer, St. Edward (OH).

Ironman champion at 160 after a runner-up finish in 2008. Won the state championship in 2010 and was named outstanding wrestler. Compiled a 40-0 record as a senior and finished his high school career with a 138-16 record. At the University of Virginia, Sulzer was a three-time All American and four time NCAA qualifier. His career record at Virginia was 122-27.

2010 - Morgan McIntosh, Calvary Chapel (CA).

Ironman champion at 189 in his only Ironman appearance. Named the national High School Wrestler of the Year, McIntosh won three state titles in California, capped off by a 189 pound crown in 2011 (he won the 189 pound title in 2010 and the 171 pound crown in 2009). McIntosh had a 189-5 career record (including 128 pins). He had three straight undefeated seasons (43-0 in 2009, 59-0 in 2010 and 46-0 in 2011) and won the 2011 Dave Schultz High School Excellence Award. At Penn State McIntosh was a three-time NCAA All-American.

2011 - Randy Cruz, Bethlehem Catholic (PA).

Ironman champion at 132. Captured the Pennsylvania AA state title as a senior, three-time AA finalist and four-time AA place winner. Holds the school record with a 152-20 record. Randy was NCAA All American with his eighth place finish in the 2016 NCAA tournament.

2012 - Zain Retherford, Benton (PA).

Ironman champion at 138. Retherford posted a perfect 47-0 mark at Benton High School, closing out his high school career with a 130-3 career record, including two state titles. He won the PIAA title as a freshman with a 40-1 mark then placed third as a sophomore. The two-time All-American won the 2016 NCAA individual championship at 149 pounds.. He ended his sophomore year, a two-time All-American and NCAA Champion.

2013 - Spencer Lee, Franklin Regional (PA).

Two time Ironman champion at 106 (2013), 120 (2014). Lee also won the 2013 Bill Barger OWA. An injury prevented Lee from competing in the 2015 Ironman but he will be attempting to become a rare three time Ironman champion in 2016. Lee is a two-time World Champion and has committed to the University of Iowa. He will be a pleasure to watch in 2016. Lee is considered in many circles to be the greatest high school wrestler of all time.

2014 - Anthony Valencia, St. John Bosco (CA)

Two time Ironman Champion at 170 in 2013 and 2014. One of the rare Ironman four time placers. The two time California state champion committed to Arizona State but red shirted his freshman year when he qualified for the Olympic Trials

2014 - Kevin Vough, Elyria (OH)

Elyria's first Ironman champion at 285 as a sophomore in 2014. Followed up with a Division I OHSAA state championship after a third place finish as a freshman. An injury prevented his participation in 2015.

2015 - Jack Mueller, Trinity Christian (TX)

Ironman champion at 120 A four time Ironman placer, the four time National Prep champion was also named the OW. Mueller has committed to continue his career at Virginia Tech.

The Major Ray Mendoza Award

“It is a proud privilege to be a soldier - a good soldier - with discipline, self-respect, pride in his unit and his country, a high sense of duty and obligation to comrades and to his superiors, and a self confidence born of demonstrated ability.”

- General George S. Patton

Behind The Mendoza Award

When 19-year-old Kyle Snyder won the UWW freestyle World championship for the USA at 97 KG's in Las Vegas in September 2015, he capped off a remarkable run of success by "Major Ray Mendoza Award" winners. Initiated at the December 2009 Ironman in honor of the late Major Ray Mendoza killed in action in Iraq in November of 2005, the Mendoza Award is presented three times each year and goes to the individual wrestler who earns the most "Team Points" at that year's Ironman, Beast of the East or National Prep Tournament at Lehigh.

Former Blair Academy (N.J.) head coach Jeff Buxton tells me, "Ray came to Blair as a two sport athlete; he was a star running back on the football, but graduated with a passion for wrestling. His dedicated, loyalty, mentally tough and ability to persevere through adversity made him an exceptional candidate to pursue a military career and he enrolled in West Point Prep. After finishing the year he had second thoughts about the military and decided to attend Ohio State, having great career. After graduating he continued to wrestle and joined the Marines. Ray and I always kept in contact after he graduated from Blair. He was a great husband, father and fabulous friend and human being. I was lucky enough to teach his daughter at Blair." Mendoza was survived by his wife Karen , son Alak, and daughter Kiana.

By design, the Mendoza Award is limited to these three top tourneys by it's originator Dave Ritterpusch, a Lehigh grad and retired Army Colonel. The award has proved to be a great predictor of future wrestling success. The Mendoza was created by Ritterpusch in 2009 and he then went about selling it to the three tournament directors through his perserverance, tenacity and congeniality. Ritterpusch tells me he had two ideas in mind. One, to remember and honor Major Ray Mendoza. Idea number two, to identify and recognize the wrestler who contributed the most to his team's results in the respective tournament in terms of an actual objective and measurable standard, team points earned.

From Howard Beach New York, Major Ray Mendoza was a Blair Academy class of 1987 post-graduate wrestler and teammate of Ritterpusch's son Kurt. The two remained friends and "brothers in arms" over the years. Mendoza came in 2nd at the 1987 National Prep tournament at 189 lbs. The Major then graduated from Ohio State University where he wrestled. Lt. Colonel Kurt Ritterpusch is now the Provost Marshall for the First Cavalry Division; he has served four tours in the middle east war zones. He tells me, "Ray was a classmate, teammate and housemate when I was at Blair. His dedication and honor were without reproach. He always had a quiet strength and a certain intensity. I have no vignettes to share at this point in time, but share with you that I have never known anyone who was more focused on the work of the team. Be it in the wrestling room or in a rifle company - he expected every member to do their best for the team."

Rare two-time Mendoza winner Kyle Snyder, World champion, he beat the defending champion from Russia in the finals, was the latest evidence that the Mendoza Award is a predictor of future success. To further support that point, this summer 16-year-old Spencer Lee from Franklin Regional (Pa.), who won the Mendoza Award at the 2013 Ironman, captured the UWW freestyle Junior World championship in dominating fashion at 50 KG's, with a technical fall in each of his five matches- all this though Spencer was the youngest wrestler at the World championships.

A third of Mendoza winners have yet to wrestle at the college level and two Mendoza winners who were NCAA All-Americans last year red-shirted the 2014-2015 season- however six Mendoza winners were All-Americans at the 2015 NCAA's in March. This brought the Mendoza AA total to date to 15 since 2009. This year's six NCAA All Americans were headed up by two true freshmen, West Virginia's Zeke Moisey (Bethlehem Catholic Pa.) and Ohio State's Kyle Snyder, each of whom placed second . Two other Mendoza winners placed third at the 2015 NCAA's, with Northwestern's Mike McMullan (Wyoming Seminary Pa.) getting his fourth straight NCAA top-three finish and Penn State's Morgan MacIntosh (Calvary Chapel Calif.) getting his second AA placement. Rounding out the Mendoza winners who were 2015 AA's were the University of Virginia's Nick Sulzer (St. Edward Ohio), the very first Ironman Mendoza winner, who placed for the third time at NCAA's, coming in 5th; and Virginia Tech's Zach Epperly (Christiansburg Va.) who placed 7th. Stanford incoming-freshman Joey McKenna (Blair Academy N.J.), Ironman champ in 2013 won the 2014 freestyle Junior World championship Silver medal.

The Best Walsh Jesuit Ironman Wrestling Tournament—ever?

December 9th and 10th at Walsh Jesuit High School

by: Josh Lowe

There really is just one in-season high school wrestling tournament candidate for the best ever. Regardless of which wrestling media outlet or pundit you ask, the opinion is virtually unanimous: The Walsh Jesuit Ironman is the nation's best regular in season high school wrestling tournament. In its 23rd edition, the field of teams and individuals present crystallizes that assertion. Eighteen of the nation's top 50 teams as per the pre-season Fab 50 national team rankings published by InterMat are in the field, highlighted by ten of the top 15 teams nationally, including No. 1 in the nation Blair Academy (N.J.)

Furthermore, it is likely that just over one quarter of the wrestlers ranked nationally in their respective weight class in the pre-season rankings will be on the brackets at this tournament. This includes six wrestlers ranked first in the country at their respective weight classes: Jordan Decatur (CVCA, Ohio) at 120 pounds, two-time Ironman champion Spencer Lee (Franklin Regional, Pa.) at 126, returning Ironman champion David Carr (Massillon Perry, Ohio) at 152, Michael Beard (Malvern Prep, Pa.) at 182, returning Ironman runner-up Jacob Warner (Washington, Ill.) at 195, and returning Ironman champion Chase Singletary (Blair Academy, N.J.) at 220. Three others are ranked second nationally at their weight class: Sammy Sasso (Nazareth, Pa.) at 138 pounds, Michael Labriola (Bethlehem Catholic, Pa.) at 170, and returning Ironman runner-up Cohilton Schultz (Ponderosa, Colo.) at 220.

Lee, Carr, and Singletary headline the seven previous champions slated to compete in this event. Others include Nate Keaton (Circleville, Ohio), Mitch Moore (St. Paris Graham, Ohio), Real Woods (Montini Catholic, Ill.), and Kevin Vough (Elyria, Ohio). Warner and Schultz lead the group of nine previous runners-up slated to compete in this event. Others include Dylan D'Emilio (Genoa, Ohio), Rocky Jordan (St. Paris Graham, Ohio), Will Lewan (Montini Catholic, Ill.), Cole Matthews (Reynolds, Pa.), Drew Mattin (Delta, Ohio), Jason Renteria (Oak Park River Forest, Ill.), and Zach Sherman (Blair Academy, N.J.).

Looking at the team battle, No. 1 in the nation Blair Academy (N.J.) seeks to win this tournament for the 13th time, which would end a two year lull without winning the title. The Buccaneers have seven ranked wrestlers in the pre-season national rankings published by InterMat. Defending champion Wyoming Seminary (Pa.) enters the season ranked No. 17 in the nation, while 2014 tournament champion St. Paris Graham (Ohio) is ranked No. 6 nationally. The two teams best positioned to challenge Blair Academy for the title would be No. 3 St. Edward (Ohio), which has won this tournament five times, but none since 2006; along with tournament debutant Lake Highland Prep (Fla.), which is ranked No. 4 nationally with six wrestlers in the weight class rankings.

With each weight class featuring at least three ranked wrestlers, most featuring between five and eight ranked wrestlers, the competition throughout the event should be fierce. Making the finals on Saturday night will be a true accomplishment, as will making it onto the placement podium with a top eight placement. Wrestlers earning placement will have navigated high quality brackets, featuring many nationally ranked wrestlers, as well as state champions and state medalists.

“The Ironman”

Through The Years – Yearly Ironman Recap From 1994-2015

A Wrestling Evolution

Similar to the Big Bang Theory, the Walsh Jesuit Ironman exploded from the wisdom, imagination and foresight of its originators in 1994 and continues to expand today. A common analogy would explain that like space itself, the tournament continues to expand, carrying wrestlers posing as galaxies with it to become the “stars” of the wrestling Universe.

The Ironman is the original model of a proven, competitive wrestling tournament that has subsequently developed itself as the standard by which other similar tournaments are judged. Of course this claim is supported by the most comprehensive and in-depth data as documented elsewhere in this periodical.

After observing twenty-two Ironman classics most wrestling experts are fairly convinced by the evidence that some Big Bang scenario must have occurred within this tournament when in January, 2008, Sports Illustrated called it “The Toughest High School Tournament in the Country”.

Through The Years

1994 - Ironman I

Nothing evokes the long memories of wrestling fans like Ironman I. To many it was an experience that holds special memories not only because of the quality of that tournament, but also the eventual successes achieved by its competitors and the tone the tournament scripted for subsequent wrestling classics. Host Walsh Jesuit was ranked number one nationally and had claimed national championships in 1993 and 1994.

A flurry of early pins allowed the Warriors to score 103.5 points the first day to lead Northampton, PA by 31 points. Walsh advanced six wrestlers to the championship round and led Northampton by 18 points, but after the Warriors lost their first three matches, Northampton won its first three title bouts and sliced Walsh's lead from 18 to 9 points. However, Scott Overholt stopped the Walsh skid with a 3-1 win in a slam-bang 160 pound bout in which Overholt trailed until the third period. Now it became a head to head confrontation with Northampton and Walsh facing each other in the 189 and 215 title matches. Those late bouts pitted Walsh's Joey O'Neill and Northampton's Craig Fenstermaker at 189 and sophomore Warrior Jeff Knupp against Northampton's Rick Umstead. Northampton again cut into Walsh's lead when Fenstermaker scored a 5-3 decision over O'Neill in overtime, but Knupp saved the tourney for Walsh with a convincing 8-2 win over Umstead which gave the Warriors its first and only Ironman team title. Many wrestling historians will argue that Ironman I was the most competitive tournament ever. Eight wrestlers from the fifteen schools went on to become collegiate NCAA All-Americans. Eric Guererro became a three-time NCAA champion and four-time All-American at Oklahoma State, and a USA Olympian in 2004. Joe Heskett (Walsh Jesuit and Iowa State) won one NCAA championship and became a four-time All-American; Rob Rohn (Northampton and Lehigh) became an NCAA champion; Bryan Snyder (Easton and Nebraska) became a four-time All-American.

1995 - Ironman II

Walsh Jesuit put its number one national ranking and Ironman I championship on the line in this second annual event. They knew they would have to weather an assault by a number of teams if they wished to maintain their number one status. Most notably, the Warriors had to get by Blair Academy of New Jersey, ranked number two and making their first appearance in the Ironman. Blair did not leave anything to one's imagination as they took the team point lead by the narrowest of margins with a 72.5 to 72 lead over Walsh entering the semi-final round. Close behind was Nazareth with 70 followed by Easton with 66.5 and Lakewood St. Edward with 60. Walsh and Blair both sent a tournament-high eight wrestlers into the semi-finals, St. Edward and Easton moved seven into that critical round. Blair clearly dominated the event from the semi's forward when they won three of four matches against the Warriors. “It was decided in the semifinals”, said Blair coach Jeff Buxton, “because we were able to win three of four head-to-head matches with Walsh. That was it right there. We were never in this type of tournament before and I thought we were up against some pretty big odds”. Blair went on to claim four individual champions as they piled up 207 points. “It was not a typical Walsh semifinal show, that's for sure,” Warriors coach Bill Barger said. “We needed to win two more matches to win this tournament, but we were outwrestled. You just can't pick up that many points in the consolation rounds. Overall, Blair is so much better than anyone else. They're number one, no question". Walsh sent four into the finals and all won titles. The Warriors finished second as team with 183 points. While Barger controlled his emotions, the same couldn't be said of Sonny Marchette when he faced Easton's Jamarr Billman in the marquee match of the tournament. It was Billman who had beaten Marchette 1-0 a week before in the Pennsylvania Elite Duals and Marchette was eager for a rematch. He took the offensive from the start and never let up in a 7-4 victory at 135 pounds. To everyone's amazement, Lakewood St. Edward failed to have any individual champions for the first time in many tournaments.

1996 - Ironman III

Teams who entered the 1996 Ironman, a tournament that was loaded with national powers, quickly discovered there was no doubt who would end up winning the third annual event in dominating fashion. Lakewood St. Edward earned that honor with relative ease with 212.5 points followed by Blair Academy (185.5), Easton, PA (179), Walsh Jesuit (150.5). Calvary Chapel, CA. finished in fifth place with (145.5). With individual champions in Yoshi Nakamura (145), Ryan Kinley (171) and heavyweight Jeremy Orsky, the Eagles dethroned Calvary Chapel as the number one team in the nation. "St. Ed left no doubt who the best team was here," Blair coach Jeff Buxton said. Walsh Jesuit coach Bill Barger said St. Ed's dominance looked eerily familiar. "With all due respect to Greg Urbas, (St. Ed's coach), I got the weirdest feeling that (late coach) Howard Ferguson was here," Barger said. "St. Edward looked as great as I've ever seen them in the Ferguson era". St. Edward also had runners-up in freshman Mason Lenhard (103) and Mark Jayne (112) and juniors Mike Kulczyki (125) and Andy Hrovat (160). Walsh Jesuit, fourth in the final team standings, had four champions in seniors Brad Byers (119) who defeated defending Ironman champion Chris Kelly of Easton, Joe Heskett (152), Jeff Knupp (189) and Viktor Sveda (215) and two other placers. Easton's Jamarr Billman avenged his loss to Sonny Marchette in the 1995 finals when he defeated Marchette 6-5 in the finals at 140 with a takedown in the last 21 seconds.

1997 - Ironman IV

Another star was discovered in the wrestling universe when CVCA freshman Harry Lester wrestled his first high school match in this rugged Ironman Invitational. Lester, who was 14 years old and 5-foot-3 belied his stature when he beat three quality opponents to make the 103-pound semifinals in his first day of varsity competition that included a major upset when he pinned top-seeded Josh Cox of Whitfield, GA in 5:45. Lester then edged a worthy opponent in Cory Cooperman of Blair Academy 54 in the semifinals and proceeded to defeat Eastlake North senior Ray Sabin 8-5 in the finals. "You don't have to watch him long to see he is something special," CVCA coach Dave Bergen said. "He has such great instincts...he feels moves." While Lester's star shined brightly, Lakewood St. Edward's team looked like a blazing meteor as the Eagles talented squad dominated the field to win its second consecutive Ironman title with a then record 239 points and six individual champs in Mark Jayne (112), Mike Kulczycki (130), Gray Maynard (152), Skip Fair (160), Ryan Kinley (second consecutive title @ 171) and Andy Hrovat (189). Bald Eagle Area, PA was second with 183 points, and Blair Academy was third with 180. St. Edward coach Greg Urbas took the team victory with a grain of salt. "Hey, it's nice to win a tough tournament like this," Urbas said. "But the season is long. Last year, Blair gave us quite a whipping in a dual meet after we won the Ironman. I'll not forget that." While the Ironman established itself as the "toughest high school tournament in the country" with the speed of light, it could not escape the attention of college coaches who descended upon the event and watched the appreciable talent on display, evaluated it and wished for their share of it. "It's a Who's Who of college coaches. There are probably more coaches here than at any tournament in the country. It is an embarrassment of riches," said Bob Preusse, tournament director and columnist for Amateur Wrestling News. The talent on display performed as advertised as many went on to become NCAA All-Americans. Lester also had the distinction to become a Bronze Medalist at 145 lbs. (66kg) in Men's Greco Roman in the 2006 World Wrestling Championships which were held in Guangzhou, China.

1998 - Ironman V

In the team race, Blair Academy (208.5 points) won their second team title in a tense battle with Lakewood St. Edward (199.5 points), but the night belonged to Harry Lester, the sensational sophomore from Cuyahoga Valley Christian Academy. Lester's "unlimited potential" was transformed into reality and his state and national status jumped markedly higher by winning the 112-pound title in an emotional and intense match up of Division I and Division III OHSAA 103-pound champions. A third-period reversal enabled Lester to edge Mason Lenhard of Lakewood St. Edward 5-4. Lester was the underdog, but he slipped behind Lenhard for a reversal midway through the third period for two decisive points to break a 3-3 tie. "He is the king of the Ironman, that's for sure," said Bill Barger, coach of the host Walsh Jesuit Warriors. Lester's performance earned the praise of Lakewood St. Edward coach Greg Urbas who gave credit to Lester for a winning the showdown -- one that deprived his team of valuable points. "I expected Mason to win, but he (Lester) wrestled a great match," Urbas said. "He came out with the pedal to the metal. He earned the championship." The team talent was heavily weighted in favor of Blair Academy and St. Edward. The Bucs had once again won the 1998 National Prep championships while the Eagles captured the Ohio Division I state championship. The team from New Jersey would feature four National Prep champions: Cory Cooperman (103), Marat Tomaev (140), Jody Giuricich (145), and Chris Chaft (215). All four of the Blair wrestlers won Ironman titles in their respective weight classes with the key match being Giuricich's 9-7 controversial overtime victory against St. Ed's Ryan Bertin. Mason Lehnard (103) and Mark Jayne (119) were the state champions representing St. Edward. Jayne did not disappoint as he easily won the second of his three Ironman titles, while Lehnard lost in the finals to Lester. However, the Eagles were kept in the tournament title hunt with Ironman titles from Nick Mann (125), Mike Tolar (152) and Steve Mazzola (171). It was not long after this tournament that Lakewood St. Edward coach Greg Urbas coined his classis phrase: "The Ironman is where state champs come to die" Page 68

1999 - Ironman VI

It was the best of times and the worst of times for the 1999 Ironman tournament. Lakewood St. Edward entered one of its strongest teams in school history. And Harry Lester was missing in action. After two brilliant Ironman performances as a freshman and sophomore, the two-time Ironman and Ohio state champion, Lester suffered a broken ankle in his team's last football game, forcing him to miss the tournament and most of the season. He would recover in time to capture his third Ohio Division III (2000) state championship. With two-time state champions in Mason Lehnard (119) and Mark Jayne and state runner-up Ryan Bertin (152) the Ohio state champion Eagles were expected to be put to an early test by Blair Academy, the perennial National Prep school champions, and a team loaded with talent. Blair returned to the Ironman with defending champion Cory Cooperman (112), and a talented newcomer, Zack Esposito. Add in previous Ironman placers Matt Veres (112), Joe Crecca (119) Michael Carbonaro (130) and Steve Mocco, a two-time National Prep champion from St. Benedicts, New Jersey. St. Edward took the team lead after the first day with 139 points thanks to a large number of pins, followed by Blair with 103. "The kids looked great," St. Edward coach Greg Urbas said. "We needed those pins. Blair sure is getting their share too." While these two wrestling giants were putting on a spectacular show with their "shooting stars," individuals from schools without full teams were making some grand impressions of their own. Two time Division I state runner-up Jake Percival (140) from Amherst, OH had two technical falls, pinned Blair "super sophomore" Zack Esposito in 3:49 and beat fellow state runner-up Jason Bake of Massillon Jackson in the finals, 9-4. Percival would continue his college career at Ohio University where he would become a 4X NCAA All-American, highlighted by a second place finish in 2004. Walsh Jesuit senior P.J. Jones (171), one week removed as a 190 pound linebacker on the school's state championship football team, won his 100th career match with a 5-4 tiebreaker championship win over Jeremy Villers of Canal Fulton Northwest. Ironically, Jones and Villers were destined to meet in the 2000 OHSAA state finals, with Jones prevailing once again. With eight victories in the semifinal round, St. Edward continued to light up the scoreboard and finished with five individual champions and a tournament record 297 points. St. Edward's champions were seniors Mason Lehnard (119), Mark Jayne (125), Nick Mann (130), Ryan Bertin (152) and freshman Ryan Lang (103) who pinned four of five opponents. Jayne became the tournament's first 4X finalist and first 3X champion. Bertin matriculated to the University of Michigan where he became a 4X NCAA All-American and 2X NCAA champion in 2003 and 2005. Blair was a distant second in this tournament with 200 points and three champions in Cory Cooperman (112), Kurt Backes (189) and Steve Mocco (275).

2000 - Ironman VII

This turn of the century Ironman tournament was billed as "The Ironman's best field, team-wise and individually, since its first year in 1994. I expect it to be a close battle for the team title," Walsh Jesuit coach Bill Barger said. He turned out to be quite the prophet as Lakewood St. Edward won this Invitational with 264.5 points, three champions-Mark Moos (112), Paul Dunston (140), Matt Koz (215), three runners-up and five other place winners. Blair Academy, ranked number one in several national polls, was second with 240 points and five champions-Rob Preston (103), Cory Cooperman (125), Zack Esposito (145), Kurt Backes (189) and Steve Mocco (275), who pinned his finals opponent in 0:20 seconds, the fastest pin in Ironman history, a record which still stands today. The final margin does not tell the whole story, as a Blair wrestler, leading by a 9-3 score with five seconds remaining in his match, was disqualified for biting. Blair coaches argued that it was incidental contact. "It was an unfortunate situation," Blair coach Jeff Buxton said. "He feels horrible about it, and it cost us a lot of points." The disqualification cost his team 24 points. However, without the penalty, St. Edward would have won by a half-point. "It was very impressive" St. Edward coach

Greg Urbas said of the Eagles fourth Ironman title. "I'm really excited about their performance. We bumped heads with the best in the nation." The tournament took a toll on the Eagles too, as state and defending Ironman champion Ryan Lang placed fourth in the brutal 125-pound weight class, losing in the semifinals 14-3 to 1999 state champion Josh Wooten (St. Paris Graham). The caliber of wrestling in this tournament was not only measured by the achievements of individuals, but also by their future accomplishments. Steve Luke (Massillon Perry and Michigan) became a NCAA champion in 2009 and a 3X All-American. Coleman Scott (Waynesburg, PA and Oklahoma State) became an NCAA champion in 2008 and a 4X All-American. Zack Esposito (Blair Academy and Oklahoma State) became a 3X All-American and NCAA champion in 2005, while teammate Steve Mocco became a 4X NCAA finalist and a 2X time champion for Iowa (2003) and Oklahoma State (2005) and a member of the USA Olympic Team in 2008. Drew Headlee (Waynesburg and University of Pittsburgh); Cory Cooperman (Blair Academy and Minnesota); Kurt Backes (Blair Academy and Iowa State); and Ryan Lang (St. Edward and Northwestern) became NCAA All-Americans. Mark Perry (Blair Academy and Iowa), became a 4X All-American and 2x NCAA champion. Harry Lester and his teammate Chris Smolk (1st-171) led Cuyahoga Valley Christian Academy (CVCA) to a third place finish as Ohio schools claimed seven of the top ten team placements. Lester defeated Perry in the 130-pound finals 17-7 to claim his third Ironman title and his second Outstanding Wrestler Award, the only wrestler to win the award twice. Lester later became a force in international competition when he finished in third place in men's Greco Roman in the 2006 and 2007 World Wrestling Championships.

2001 - Ironman VIII

The Ironman had always been known as being fiercely competitive among its participants. It was now gaining national notoriety as a tournament. "This tournament is eye-opening reality," Walsh coach Bill Barger said. "Ohio isn't down. The nation is up and the nation is here. The Ironman is not a state tournament, it's a national tournament." Eight of the top 34 teams in the country were entered in the event, according to Bob Preusse's rankings in the Amateur Wrestling News, including No. 1 Blair Academy (NJ), No. 3 Great Bridge (VA), No.7 Lakewood St. Edward (OH), and No. 10 St. Paris Graham (OH). Those teams brought a contingent of nationally ranked wrestlers including C.P. Schlatter (135-St. Paris Graham), Zack Esposito (152-Blair), and Mike Martin (135-Great Bridge). There could only be 14 individual champions and one team winner in the event that at the time was considered the second-toughest tournament in the country. This event lived up to its billing as the tournament "where state champs come to die." How tough was the field? Consider that Jared Villers and Ryan Hurley were 2001 Ohio state champions (Akron St. Vincent-St. Mary) who were defeated and another state champion for the Irish, Adam Buzek, did not even place. Lakewood St. Edward state champion, senior Mark Moos, in a stunning loss in the finals, experienced the same fate. After breezing to the championship round, Moos lost to Christian Staylor (Great Bridge, VA), 9-6. Moos had previously beaten Staylor four times in national tournaments. One of the marquee matches that fans were hoping to witness was a rematch between two-time Ohio state champion and No.1 ranked junior C.P. Schlatter and No.1 ranked senior Mike Martin (Great Bridge). In the finals of the 2000 Beast of the East Tournament, Martin handed Schlatter his only loss as a high school wrestler. But that match was never destined to happen as Chris Vondruska (Lakewood St. Edward) shocked the crowd and Martin 5-2 in the semifinals. It was the first loss in over three years that Martin suffered in high school. "The semifinals were the best I have seen in a long time," said Ohio State assistant coach Ken Ramsey, a four-time Ohio state champion. "A lot of the best in the country are right here. Their programs are known for putting out great wrestlers, and they showed that." Top ranked Blair Academy with 287.5 points (second best in tournament history) had six champions (Max Meltzer (130), Ryan Davis (140), Mark Perry (145), Zack Esposito (152) Matt Palmer (160) and Kurt Backer (171) to win the 24-team event. Great Bridge (two champions), Lakewood St. Edward (ten place-winners) and St. Paris Graham (three champions) distanced the field to take the next three spots. Page 70

2002 - Ironman IX

This ninth Ironman tournament attracted Wrestling USA magazine's top three teams, Blair Academy (NJ), St. Paris Graham (OH) and Great Bridge (VA). (197). In addition, the list of champions was a virtual who's who of the national wrestling scene, including top-ranked C.P. Schlatter of St. Paris Graham (152), Mark Perry (160) of Blair, Daniel Frishkorn of Great Bridge (130), Coleman Scott (112) of Waynesburg (PA), and Jake Herbert (171) North Allegheny (PA).

St. Paris Graham, having won two consecutive Ohio Division II state championships, began flexing their muscle on a national level and were challenging Lakewood St. Edward not only for the supremacy of Ohio, but for all of the Midwest as well. St. Edward had been the undisputed king of Ohio high school wrestling since 1997 and the team champion in four of the preceding Ironman tournaments. The Falcons' strong program begins with its coach, four-time state champion Jeff Jordan (1980-83), a graduate of the school and an NCAA All-American at Wisconsin. "I don't know about all the recognition we're getting," Jordan said. "We won a Division II state title last year, but we really haven't proved anything yet. This tournament will show how we stack up against the best in the country."

After the first day the Falcons were leading with 77½ points. Great Bridge, Va., was second with 75 points, favorite Blair Academy third with 73½, St. Edward fifth with 60½, and the host Warriors sixth at 52½. The toughness in the tournament was shown in the second round, when Walsh Jesuit state champion Josh Zupancic (125), the No. 3 seed, was stunned by freshman Jake Kyle of Dayton Carroll, 6-5. Zupancic was good enough last year to beat Mark Moos, St. Edward's national champion and Junior National freestyle champion. "This tournament amazes me more and more every year," said Walsh coach Bill Barger. "No matter what talent you have in your room, you feel humbled."

Six wrestlers from local teams made the finals -- an accomplishment in itself -- and everyone faced an opponent who was either No. 1 in the country or had won some type of national championship. Five of those area wrestlers- Ryan Hurley (145) and Mike Skonieczny (275) of St. Vincent-St. Mary, future NCAA champion Steve Luke (160), Kyle Shackle (112) and Jason Johnstone (125) of Massillon Perry were beaten in the final round. The one winner was SVSM senior Jared Villers, who had three takedowns to upset top-ranked Matt Koz of Lakewood St. Edward 8-5 at 215.

One of the night's most entertaining finals pitted Hurley, a three-time state placer against Blair's top-ranked Ryan Davis, an Oklahoma State recruit. Davis won 5-4 in overtime with an escape in the last 15 seconds. Johnstone, a state runner-up last season, advanced to the 125 pound final with a big upset in the semifinals. His 3-2 decision over top-ranked St. Paris Graham sophomore Dustin Schlatter was the first loss of Schlatter's high school career. However, Johnstone lost to two-time national prep school champion, Harvard-bound Robbie Preston of Blair in the finals, 9-5. Schlatter's teammate Joe Hoke (189) offset Schlatter's loss by beating Matt Maciag of Blair, 2-1 in an overtime tiebreaker. Maciag was the No. 1-rated high school wrestler in the country. Top-ranked Blair Academy with its four champions-Travis Blasco (112), Robbie Preston (125), Ryan Davis (145) and Mark Perry (160) overtook St. Paris Graham, scoring 231½ points to 215. Great Bridge, Va., was third with 197. St. Edward finished fourth with 181½ points, not the usual position you'll find St. Edward finishing in a tournament. The Eagles did have individual champions in three-time state champion Ryan Lang (135 pounds) and Charlie Agozzino (140). When the ninth annual Ironman concluded before an overflow crowd of 1,800, the fans were thoroughly entertained by a field that included the nation's three best teams and a staggering list of the country's best individuals. Page

Three of the five No.1 nationally ranked wrestlers in this tournament would go on to become NCAA champions and 4X All-Americans. Coleman Scott won his title in 2008 for Oklahoma State University. Mark Perry won two NCAA titles for the University of Iowa in 2007 and 2008. Jake Herbert won two titles for Northwestern University in 2007 and 2009. Herbert also had the distinction become a Silver Medalist in Men's Freestyle wrestling at 185 lbs. (84kg) in the 2009 FILA World Wrestling Championships which were held in Herning, Denmark.

"This is one of the greatest high school tournaments that has ever occurred," said Bob Preusse, the Ironman tournament director and veteran writer for Amateur Wrestling News.

2003 - Ironman X

Entering its 10th year, the Ironman tournament was attracting most of the top teams in the country to become "The Cavalcade of Stars." Talented teams and talented individuals would become the norm, the tournament action would speak for itself and gave the fans more matches to store in their memory banks. Moving in with teams loaded with heavy artillery were No.1 Blair Academy (NJ), No. 6 Great Bridge (VA), No. 7 St. Paris Graham (OH), No. 8 Brandon (FL), No. 11 Lakewood St. Edward (OH), No. 13 Massillon Perry (OH), No. 17 host school Walsh Jesuit and No. 32 Kenston (OH).

Tournament director Bob Preusse compiled the rankings. Wrestling USA magazine rated the tournament as the toughest high school tournament in the nation and those fans in attendance were about to see why. "I have my best wrestling team since 1997 and I'm not sure how we'll stack up against the teams ranked ahead of us," Walsh Jesuit coach Bill Barger said. "Goodness, this tournament is loaded with talent." St. Edward, and Walsh Jesuit, the Cleveland Plain Dealer's No.1 and No.2 ranked teams, had only one top seed between them, that being the Warriors Mike Pucillo at 152 pounds. Even St. Edward sophomore Lance Palmer, the top-ranked 103 pounder in the country last season, drew a No. 2 seed at 112. Akron St. Vincent-St. Mary senior Rocco Caponi, the nation's topranked senior (171) and a Junior National freestyle champion, did not draw the top seed. "There are three great kids at this weight," Bob Preusse said. "Hudson Taylor of Blair is the No.1 ranked junior in the country at this weight, and David Craig of Brandon is the best sophomore in the country at any weight." Kenston senior Ricky Deubel was the top seed at 119 pounds, as was Bedford St. Peter Chanel senior Jeff Jagers and go on to become a 2X NCAA champion for The Ohio State University. "This should be a great tournament," Preusse said. "No team should dominate it. It will be interesting to see how well St. Edward does. They have the best dual meet team in Ohio, but Palmer is the only high seed they got in this tournament." St. Edward led Blair in team standings 82-77 after the first day. Blair's overall team depth was too much for the field. With only one champion, Adam Frey (130), the team from New Jersey had placers in all 14 weight classes to top the field with 273 points. Brandon (FL) was second with 183, but St. Edward was a blink behind in third with 182 and nine place-winners, but no individual champs. A key match took place in the finals when Brandon's Franklin Gomez defeated St. Ed's Lance Palmer at 112. Walsh Jesuit sophomore Dave Rella (145) and junior Mike Pucillo (152) claimed titles for the Warriors, while neighboring Massillon Perry produced the 160 pound champ in Steve Luke. Gomez, Pucillo and Luke would eventually become NCAA champs.

2004 - Ironman XI

"Not only is the Ironman the No. 1 rated tournament in the country, it's also the best high school tournament in Ohio regardless of the sport," tournament director Bob Preusse said. "What other sport can you name that has a comparable field?"

It was wrestling "Showtime" once again at Walsh Jesuit High School. The field was set and wrestling fans who were looking for a glaring real-life preview of what the 2004-05 season would be need look no further than the 11th annual Walsh Jesuit Ironman tournament. To say that this event would become one of the toughest schoolboy tournaments in the country would be an understatement as seven of the top-ranked teams in the nation are entered. Heading the entries are two State Championship teams from Ohio (Division I-Lakewood St. Edwards, Division II-St. Paris Graham), along with state champs from Maryland (Mount St. Joseph) and Illinois (Montini Catholic). Bob Preusse, who is one of the nation's foremost authorities on high school wrestling, is responsible for putting this year's field together. "This 32 team Ironman should be the toughest one ever! We have 4 of the top 5 teams in America, and 6 of the top 10," Preusse said. "The race for the top spot will be between # 1 Blair Academy and # 2 Great Bridge (VA), although never count out St Edward (#4) and St Paris Graham (#5)." Individual returning 2003 Ironman champions ranked by Amateur News American are: Aaron Hart, St. Paris Graham (#7-112); Cameron Doggett, St. Paris Graham (#2-130); Adam Frey, Blair Academy (#1-130); Dave Rella, Walsh Jesuit (#6-160); Mike Pucillo, Walsh Jesuit (#3-171); 189Patrick Bond, Great Bridge (#1-189).

In this tournament, in this place at this time, there was no better high school wrestler in the country than Massillon Perry's Dustin Schlatter. As a three-time Ohio state champion and nationally ranked No. 1 at 145, his star was shining brightly. Schlatter won two state titles at St. Paris Graham (2002-03), then transferred to Perry last season and won a third title with the Panthers. Schlatter won the 112 Ironman title as a freshman in 2001, but did not wrestle in the tournament last year due to an injury. He suffered the only two losses in his high school career in this tournament in 2002. "He's as good as anybody right now," Perry assistant coach Dave Riggs said. "He could definitely wrestle in college, right now." Schlatter did not disappoint the fans as he breezed to the 145-pound championship with two pins and two technical falls. His 19-4 victory in the finals against Eric Medina from Blair Academy was the most lopsided score in any of the final matches. Fans were expecting to see outstanding wrestlers in all weight classes throughout the tournament, especially at 130 where the nations #1 and #2 ranked wrestlers were expected to reach the finals. Adam Frey from Blair Academy (#1) and Cameron Doggett from St. Paris Graham (#2) are both returning champions. The 189-weight class is loaded with talent. Returning champions Patrick Bond from Great Bridge (#1) and Mike Pucillo from Walsh Jesuit (#3) will receive stiff competition from Ohio state champion Mike Ward from Mayfield and Hudson Taylor from Blair Academy, who finished third last year at 171. At 160 Dave Rella has # 4 Dave Erwin of St. Paris and # 5 Mack Lewnes of Mt. St. Joseph Md.

In summarizing this year's tournament, Preusse went on to say: "I think you could say with certainty that this years Ironman could well be THE BEST high school event that will be held in Ohio this school year, regardless of the sport or the gender, in terms of pure team strength."

In the team race, No. 1 Blair edged No. 2 Great Bridge, 213 ½ points to 212, the closest finish since the Ironman started in 1994. The final match of the tournament at 125 pounds between Jordan Frishkorn (Great Bridge) and Cameron Doggett (St. Paris Graham) determined the team championship. A pin by Frishkorn would have given Great Bridge the title by one-half point. With the match tied 2-2 late in the third period, Frishkorn took down Doggett and almost pinned him. The five-point move gave Frishkorn the win, 7-2. Doggett had defeated Frishkorn for the same championship in 2003. "I have been to them all," Bob Preusse said. "This was the BEST Ironman ever in terms of the great team race that will be talked about for many years."

2005 - Ironman XII

In classic fashion, Lakewood St. Edward snatched defeat from the jaws of victory as the wrestling Gods looked down upon Blair academy for the second consecutive year. After the team from New Jersey took the team title by the closest of margins in 2004 (213.5 to 212 over Great Bridge, VA), the overflow crowd was treated to the same kind of finish. Great Bridge with 10 pins and three tech falls was leading the tournament after the first two rounds with 82 points. However, after the semifinal round it was the Eagle's tournament to win when the brother combo of senior Lance and freshman Colin Palmer along with senior Keith Sulzer (125), junior Sean Nemece (145) and sophomore Brian Roddy (171) moved into the championship round. Lance Palmer was the defending 119-pound Ironman champion and three-time Ohio state champion. The two schools were deadlocked at 154 ½ points entering the finals. The race boiled down to whether the Eagles five finalists could overcome the overall depth of the Bucs. What happened is why this high school tournament in the country has been called "a place where state champs come to die," by St. Edward coach Greg Urbas. In the second closest team race in the 12-year history of this tournament, Blair Academy edged out St. Edward for the team title, 170 ½ points to 166 ½. Blair had only one champion-junior Eric Medina, who edged the nation's No. 1-ranked 152-pounder in Josh Rohler of St. Vincent-St. Mary, 9-6, but placed nine wrestlers. St. Edward ended up with two champions in Sulzer and Nemece, while the Palmers were joined by Roddy on the second place podium. California junior Nikko Triggas stunned the overflow crowd when he put the younger Palmer on his back three times to win a 13-2 major decision. Lance Palmer trailed Matt Dunn of Reynolds, PA, by 3-0 when he came back in the last period to take a 4-3 lead. In the final two seconds, senior Dunn got a reversal and near fall to win, 7-4. Dunn was voted the tournament's Outstanding Wrestler for his efforts. "Boy, there were a lot of ups and downs and a roller coaster of emotions," Eagles coach Greg Urbas said. "The Palmers wrestled great...they just lost to great kids. This was probably the toughest and hardest Ironman ever." The championship bouts were as dramatic as the race for the team title. Many of them will be remembered for their classic results. Freshman David Taylor (St. Paris Graham) won his first Ironman championship when he edged Boris Novachkov (Fremont) 4-3 at 103 pounds. The most unusual victory of the night went to St. Paris Graham senior Aaron Hart (119), who won in overtime when Filip Novachkov (Fremont) was penalized for applying an illegal front headlock. Keith Sulzer, called the best defensive wrestler in Ohio, edged Division II Ohio state champion Ben Jordan of St. Paris Graham, 2-1, on a second period escape to win at 125 pounds. Jordan Fishkorn, the nation's No.1 ranked wrestler at 130 pounds, fell to the rugged Billy Murphy (Hughson, CA), 3-2. Sean Nemece (145) avenged a dual meet loss last year to Blair senior Travis Blasco with a reversal and double-leg takedown to score a 6-2 decision and win one of the two titles claimed by St. Edward. The most anticipated and last scheduled match of the evening would take place in the 160 pound finals where 2003 Ironman champion Dave Rella (Walsh Jesuit) would clash with 2004 runner-up Mack Lewnes (Mt. St. Joseph, MD). "How else should it go down?" Walsh Jesuit coach Sonny Marchette asked. "Any human being thrives on that sort of competition and environment." As advertised, it was a furious back-and-forth match. Trailing 8-7, an escape by Rella with 10 seconds left cut the deficit to one, but he couldn't score the match-tying point and Lewnes claimed his title. Blair Academy took home its fifth consecutive team title and seventh overall.

2006 - Ironman XIII

State champion wrestlers and diamond college prospects were plentiful in the nation's toughest high school wrestling tournament – witnessed by more than 70 college scouts and coaches – but it was Lakewood St. Edward who ended six years of frustration when the Eagles topped the 51-team field, including their nemesis from New Jersey. With one individual champion in senior Chris Honeycutt (189 Pounds), St. Edward rolled up 260 points, 23 better than Blair Academy. It was the first time since 2000 that Blair had lost a dual meet or tournament. Blair had four individual champions in seniors Kellen Russell (130), Max Shanaman (135), Eric Medina (152) and junior Mario Mason (140). However, St. Edward, ranked No. 1 in the nation, prevailed with exceptional team depth. Seniors Shawn Harris (140), Sean Nemece (160) and heavyweight Ben Kuhar were runners-up while critical placing points were earned with third place finishes from juniors Neil Burt (13), Dan Gonsor (145) and Brian Roddy (171), sophomore Colin Palmer (125) and freshman Jamie Clark (103). "The key was all five of our wrestlers who went for third place won," St. Edward coach Greg Urbas said. "That was huge. Blair still has a great team, but we were solid this weekend."

The one match Ironman fans and coaches will talk most about for a long time occurred in a 140 pound semifinal bout. In Ironman lore it will be known as "the shot heard round the world." The bout that brought the overflow crowd to its feet – and ultimately St. Edward the team title – occurred when Lakewood St. Edward senior Shawn Harris pinned the No. 1-rated wrestler in the country and defending Ironman Champion, junior Zack Kemmerer, (Upper Perkiomen, PA), in the fourth and final overtime. Harris, a state champ as a freshman, was tied with Kemmerer, 9-9, but the Pennsylvania state champ was on top in the final 30-second tiebreaker. He would have won on criteria by riding Harris out, but in the final eight seconds, Harris got a reversal and pinned Kemmerer.

Ohio Division II team state champ St. Paris Graham won one individual championship to finish third with 174 points. Sophomore David Taylor won his second consecutive 103-pound title with a 7-3 decision over Logan Stieber (Monroeville). The loss would go down as the only defeat Stieber would suffer in his four-year high school career. Ben Jordan (St. Paris Graham), who would become a three-time Ohio state champion, lost by one point in the championship finals for the second consecutive year when he was defeated 1-0 by Max Shanaman (Blair Academy). Other notable accomplishments were achieved when Eric Medina (152-Blair Academy) and Cody Gardner (215-Christianburg) won their second consecutive titles.

2007 - Ironman XIV

St. Paris Graham, the nation's pre-season No. 2 ranked team, became the second school other than Blair Academy or Lakewood St. Edward, to claim the Ironman team title. Walsh Jesuit won the inaugural tournament in 1994. In the ensuing 12 years, Blair captured seven team titles and St. Edward claimed five. The Falcons, winners of seven consecutive (2001-2007) Ohio Division II state titles, scored 247 ½ points and had one individual champion in David Taylor (112), who won his third consecutive Ironman title. Blair finished second with 157 ½ points and one champ National Prep champion Chris Villalonga (125). St. Edward, winners of the previous 12 Ohio Division I state titles, placed third with 157 ½ and one champ-Collin Palmer (135). "We've placed ahead of St. Ed. Edward in tournaments before, but we've never beaten them in a dual meet." Graham coach Jeff Jordan said. "We'll be in the St. Ed's Super Eight Duals next week, so we'll see how tough we really are. They match up pretty well with us." (Ed. Note: The following week St. Paris Graham won their first dual over St. Ed's in the Super Eight Duals by an impressive 4713 score.)

The two venues at Walsh Jesuit became the epicenter of the amateur-wrestling world that featured some of the most heralded wrestlers and the most exciting matches ever held in the Warrior Dome or Ricco Field house. One match will unquestionably live forever in the minds of the fans that were there to witness it. Monroeville freshman Chris Phillips stunned the nation's No.1 ranked 171-pounder, St. Edward state champ Brian Roddy in the finals, 7-3, with three lightning-quick takedowns. The Division III school also had two other champs in brothers Hunter (103) and No. 1 ranked state champion Logan Stieber (119), who defeated Massillon Perry's Sam White. White, a defending Division I state champion suffered a 5-0 setback against the sophomore from Monroeville. Other notable wrestlers who performed up to their potential were: Wadsworth sophomore sensation Brad Squire, who was an undefeated state champion as a freshman. Squire defeated Massillon junior Seth Horner by an 8-4 decision to capture the title in the 130-pound weight class. St. Edward state champion junior Collin Palmer captured his only Ironman title by an injury default when Walsh Jesuit senior Chase Skonieczny injured an ankle during a second period reversal. Skonieczny had stunned the crowd earlier in the day when he defeated No. 1 ranked senior Colin Johnston, (Canon-McMillan, PA) by an 8-7 decision. "What happened was unfortunate," Walsh Jesuit coach Bill Barger said. "We'll know later today what kind of shape Chase is in." Fortunately, Skonieczny fully recovered and went on to become the Division II 135pound state champion in 2008.

"The logical question to ask is this – have the Falcons now supplanted St. Edward as the best wrestling team in Ohio?" Pat Galbincea, veteran Cleveland Plain Dealer wrestling reporter asked in a column after the tournament: "St. Paris Graham coach Jeff Jordan are hoping, yes."

2008 - Ironman XV

One would not expect the prestigious Walsh Jesuit Ironman wrestling tournament to outdo itself year after year, exceeding the expectations of wrestling fans that travel from all over the country to witness the event. They leave the tournament with the feeling that they just witnessed the best there is in high school wrestling competition, and they return year after year for more of the same. But when you have a tournament director like Bob Preusse with his relentless dedication to making each tournament as competitive as possible year after year, it comes to be expected. Ironman XV was no exception as the tournament once again lived up to its notorious billing. The Warrior Dome and Ricco Field House are almost filled before the first match is wrestled. The finals are always sold out weeks in advance of the tournament. The high school setting is perfect for the fans and many of them have mat-side squatting rights for the finals, with a close-up look at the action, unlike any other tournament. Technology added in recent years provides the fans with lives scores projected on screens through the Dome and Field House. Computers used for scoring during all matches transmit all the results. For fans not able to get tickets or otherwise not attending, live web casts are made available on the tourney's web site.

After the first day, No. 1-ranked Blair Academy from New Jersey, was dominating the 57-team field. The Buccaneers had 109½ points, while Ohio's top school, No. 2 ranked St. Paris Graham – the defending Ironman team champion and winner of the last eight Division II state titles - was in second place with 92½ points. St. Edward, which has captured the previous 12 Division I state team titles, was third with 75 points. The aura of the Ironman was beginning to surface once again with some astonishing performances. Befitting of all the talent he displayed in the previous three Ironman tournaments, St. Paris Graham senior and three-time state champ David Taylor (135) became the first wrestler to become a fourtime champion. His feat was not uneventful as he was embroiled in one of the best matches of the tournament with Ian Miller, Oak Harbor. Taylor was tossed to his back in the first period by sophomore Miller. Taylor trailed, 5-0, and was trailing, 9-8, in the final 40 seconds before he took Miller down to his back to win a 13-9 fan-pleasing thriller.

Matches of the tournament as reported by Pat Galbincea, Cleveland Plain Dealer: 112 pounds – Gus Sako (St. Edward) vs. Jerome Robinson (St. Ignatius): These two juniors had a great quarterfinal battle, but Robinson's key takedown late in the first period was the reason he beat returning state champ Sako, 3-2.

112 pounds - Wadsworth's Kagan Squire won his first two high school bouts to advance to the quarterfinals. In his first bout, Squire scored an 18-3 technical fall over Central Mountain (Pa.) freshman Joey Miller. The win moved Squire into the next round, where he met Aurora junior Ty Mitch, the defending state champion in Division II. In the final seconds, Squire scored a takedown to take a 3-1 decision.

125 pounds – Brent Fickel (Parma Padua) stunned three-time Georgia state champ and No. 4 seed Brandon Westerman, 6-2. The Padua freshman then pinned junior Pawlos Campbell, who competes for Division III state team champion Troy Christian.

171 pounds – Chris Phillips (Monroeville) vs. Ed Ruth (Blair Academy, NJ): Phillips, a Division III state champ and dynamo who was unbeaten in high school (53-0) and considered the best young upper weight in the country, was pitted against senior Ruth, ranked No. 5 in the nation, in the quarterfinals. The fact the first period was scoreless tells much. The two wrestlers were tied, 11, in the last 55 seconds when Ruth shot in and got a single leg takedown, and let Phillips escape in the final two seconds. Phillips suffered his first high school loss, 3-2. Page 77

215 Pounds-Joe McMullan, Wyoming Seminary (Pa.) and Nick Tavanello, Wadsworth tangled at 215 pounds. McMullan, a National Prep champ and the top seed, barely edged freshman Tavanello, a two-time Ohio junior high state champ, 5-4.

As expected, Blair Academy of New Jersey, the nation's No. 1 ranked team won with 282½ points. No. 2-ranked St. Paris Graham, winners of the last eight Division II state titles, was second with 234 points. Central Mountain, Pa., was third with 145 points, followed by the Eagles (143). "We have a lot of room for improvement," Urbas said, "but I thought Gus Sako (112) and Anthony Salupo (135) battled back for seventh place against some of the best wrestlers in the country. Jamie Clark was tremendous, and Collin Palmer (140) and Nick Sulzer (152) wrestled hard. I'm happy with all our kids' efforts and attitudes."

2009 - Ironman XVI

The potential of youth challenged the experience of senior talent in this most interesting 16th annual Ironman tournament. For example, St. Edward coach Greg Urbas started eight sophomores and a freshman to go along with his three elite seniors in state champ Gus Sako (125), state runnerup Nick Sulzer (160), and state third-placer Anthony Salupo (145). St. Edward state champ and No. 1 ranked Jamie Clark (130) was pulled from the tournament due to injury. "We're young, yes, but this is a darn good lineup," Urbas said. "Our main concern is for these young wrestlers to stay healthy...that's our key." While the youthful exuberance was quite impressive, senior talent prevailed. St. Edward's lone freshman, Dean Heil wrestled his way into the finals by pinning his first two opponents, winning by a tech fall 20-2 in the quarterfinals and a major decision 14-2 when he defeated the No.1 seed in the semi final round. Heil lost in the finals to St. Ignatius sophomore George Dicamillo, 7-5. William "Tank" Knowles, Calvary Chapel (CA), won his title at 215 pounds when he defeated No. 3 seed, senior Beau Wenger, (Fairless, OH), 9-4. Walsh Jesuit state runner-up, Nate Skonieczny (130) was the only sophomore to win a title by defeating a very formidable opponent in Colton Rasche (Montini Catholic, IL) 4-1. Rasche, an appointee to the U. S Naval Academy had defeated St. Edward state champion Gus Sako in the quarterfinals 5-4. Skonieczny became the Warriors first Ironman champion since Dave Rella (145) and Mike Pucillo (152) won titles in 2003. Three other sophomores who gave notable performances were: Alex Cisneros (Selma, CA) who finished second at 112. Jason Luster (152-Kiski Prep, PA) and Nick Tavanello (215-Wadsworth, OH) finished third in their respective weight classes. The appearance of eight number one and six number two nationally ranked wrestlers along with 53 state champions and five National Prep champions prevented the eager youths from accomplishing much more, to wit:

112-National Prep champion, No.1 ranked, Evan Silver (Blair Academy) defeated California's Alex Cisneros 10-4 for first place. In the semi's, Silver had beaten Pennsylvania's unbeaten Joey Guilbon 5-2. Cisneros and Guilbon were the #2 and #3 ranked wrestlers in the country at 112.

125-3X Ohio state champion, No. 1 ranked Logan Stieber (Monroeville) won his second Ironman championship by defeating No. 2 ranked and defending Ironman champion Devin Carter (Christiansburg) 10-4. Stieber pinned his first three opponents before defeating Walsh Jesuit junior Johnni DiJulius, 6-2 in the quarterfinals. Stieber suffered his only high school career loss in this tournament 7-3 to David Taylor in 2006. An injury prevented Stieber from competing in the 2008 tournament.

140- National Prep champion, No.1 ranked Chris Villalonga (Blair Academy) accomplished an Ironman hat trick by winning his third consecutive championship when he defeated Ian Miller (Oak Harbor) in a close match 3-2. With the victory, Villalonga who finished second as a freshman in 2006 became the fifth wrestler in Ironman history to become a four-time finalist.

145-No.1 ranked and Pennsylvania state champion Andrew Alton (Central Mountain) won his second consecutive title with a 5-4 win over Ohio state champion and Ironman champion Brad Squire (Wadsworth). Both of Alton's wins came at the expense of two Ohio state champions in the Ironman finals. He previously defeated 3x Ohio champ Collin Palmer in 2008.

152- No.1 ranked and Pennsylvania state champion Dylan Alton (Central Mountain) won his second consecutive title, duplicating twin brother Andrew's triumph at 145, when he defeated Jesse Shanaman (Blair Academy) 7-2.

Like the sixteen prior editions of the event, the 2010 Walsh Ironman presented by Ron Marhofer Chevrolet had a stellar field and spectacular matches from start to finish. Five of the fourteen weight class champions ended the season as the number one ranked wrestler in the country according to InterMat – Nathan Tomasello (CVCA, Ohio) at 103 pounds; Jimmy Gulibon (Derry Area, PA) at 119; Hunter Stieber (Monroeville, Ohio) at 135; Morgan McIntosh (Calvary Chapel, Pennsylvania) at 189; and Tanner Hall (Meridian, Idaho) at 215.

Another pair of champions ended the season ranked second and third respectively – Mason Beckman (Reynolds, Pennsylvania) at 125 pounds and Chris Phillips (Monroeville, Ohio) at 171 were ranked second; while Ben Whitford (Marmion Academy, Illinois) at 130 and Evan Henderson (The Kiski School, Pennsylvania) at 140 were ranked third.

In order to produce a field with such stellar individuals, most often the nation's top high school wrestling programs anchor the tournament. That was no doubt the case at the 2010 Walsh Ironman, as the tournament included 13 of the top 30 teams in the country as ranked by InterMat. Emerging with the championship was St. Paris Graham, Ohio in a close battle with Blair Academy, New Jersey (198 to 192) to win a second title in three years.

Despite falling short at the Ironman, Blair Academy would defeat Graham seven weeks later in a dual meet to propel the Buccaneers to the No. 2 ranking at season's end, while the Falcons finished fourth. Other top 30 teams were No. 5 St. Edward, Ohio; No. 11 Wyoming Seminary, Pennsylvania; No. 16 Marmion Academy, Illinois; No. 19 Massillon Perry, Ohio; No. 21 Bethlehem Catholic, Pennsylvania; No. 24 Christiansburg, Virginia; No. 25 Pittsburgh Central Catholic, Pennsylvania; No. 27 Wadsworth, Ohio; No. 28 Montini Catholic, Illinois; No. 29 Broken Arrow, Oklahoma; and No. 30 Burrell, Pennsylvania.

Like his brother Logan in December 2009, Hunter Stieber (Monroeville, Ohio) earned Outstanding Wrestler honors after winning the last match of the finals session by 3-2 decision over Austin Ormsbee (Blair Academy, New Jersey) – a battle of the top two ranked wrestlers in the nation at the weight class. This was a fourth consecutive finals match appearance for Hunter Stieber, having won the title as a freshman before finishing second the next two years.

Also in the tournament field was the best scholastic wrestler in the country as designated by the Dave Schultz Memorial Excellence Award, Morgan McIntosh (Calvary Chapel, California) – the champion at 189 pounds. Having scored 33 team points, he earned the Major Ray Mendoza Award, which was given to the individual wrestler scoring the most team points.

Joining Hunter Stieber in winning second titles at the Walsh Ironman were George DiCamillo (St. Ignatius, Ohio) at 112 pounds; Mason Beckman (Reynolds, Pennsylvania) at 125; and Chris Phillips (Monroeville, Ohio) at 171.

Rounding out the weight class champions for the 2010 Walsh Ironman were Bo Jordan (St. Paris Graham, Ohio) at 145 pounds; Ian Miller (Oak Harbor, Ohio) at 152; Jason Luster (Pittsburgh Central Catholic, Pennsylvania) at 160; and Brooks Black (Blair Academy, New Jersey) at 285. For the 18th consecutive year, fans should expect to witness arguably the best high school wrestlers in the country descend on Walsh Jesuit High School for the 2011 Walsh Ironman.

2011-Ironman XVIII

By Josh Lowe

As with the seventeen prior editions of the tournament, the 2011 Walsh Jesuit Ironman Wrestling Tournament sponsored by The Chevy Network and Marhofer Chevrolet had a stellar field and spectacular matches from start to finish. In fact, so stellar was the field that seven participants in the tournament ended the season ranked first in the country according to InterMat. This included two wrestlers who were upset during the tournament – Jimmy Gulibon (Derry Area, Pa.) at 126 pounds, who lost to Dean Heil (St. Edward, Ohio); and Mark Grey (Blair Academy, N.J.) at 132, who lost matches to Randy Cruz (Bethlehem Catholic, Pa.) and Alex Cisneros (Selma, Calif.). Champions ranked first in the country at the end of the 2011-12 season included Zahid Valencia (St. John Bosco, Calif.) at 106 pounds, George DiCamillo (St. Ignatius, Ohio) at 120, Bo Jordan (St. Paris Graham, Ohio) at 152, Kyle Snyder (Good Counsel, Md.) at 220, and Brooks Black (Blair Academy, N.J.). A pair of champions – Nathan Tomasello (CVCA, Ohio) at 113 and Heil at 126 – were ranked second nationally; while another pair finished the season ranked third – Nate Skonieczny (Walsh Jesuit, Ohio) at 138 and Isaac Jordan (St. Paris Graham) at 160. Winning their 10th team title in the 18-year history of the tournament was Blair Academy, N.J. The Buccaneers scored a narrow 252-1/2 to 240-1/2 victory over St. Edward, Ohio, which is also how those two teams finished in the season-ending InterMat Fab50 national team rankings. Third in the Ironman team standings – but a ways back - was St. Paris Graham, Ohio with 167 points. Those three squads were among the 12 nationally ranked teams in the 2011 Walsh Ironman field. The others were: No. 9 Wyoming Seminary, Pa.; No. 12 Bethlehem Catholic, Pa.; No. 14 Christiansburg, Va.; No. 18 Cincinnati Moeller, Ohio; No. 19 Broken Arrow, Okla.; No. 22 Massillon Perry, Ohio; No. 26 Montini Catholic, Ill.; No. 34 Collins Hill, Ga.; and No. 41 McDonogh, Md. Based on a dominant second day of the tournament, 126 pound champion Dean Heil was named the tournament's Outstanding Wrestler. On that day, he earned a 3-1 quarterfinal win over Junior National freestyle champion Joey Dance (Christiansburg, Va.), a 4-2 semifinal victory over Junior National freestyle runner-up Brandon Jeske (Cox, Va.), and then scored a third period pin against defending tournament champion Jimmy Gulibon (Derry Area, Pa.) The other performance award was earned by 132 pound champion Randy Cruz. That being the Major Ray Mendoza Award for scoring the most team points by any individual wrestler in the field. Cruz had three pins and a major decision in the tournament's early rounds, before scoring a 9-4 upset victory over Mark Grey – who ended the season ranked first in the country – and beating Cadet National freestyle champion Edgar Bright (St. Edward, Ohio) 5-2 in the championship match. Winning repeat titles at the Walsh Ironman were Nathan Tomasello, George DiCamillo, Bo Jordan, and Brooks Black; while Nate Skonieczny earned back the title he won in December 2009. Initial Ironman titles were won by freshman Zahid Valencia; sophomores Dylan Milonas (Blair Academy, N.J.) and Kyle Snyder; juniors Dean Heil and Frank Mattiace (Blair Academy, N.J.); along with seniors Randy Cruz, Isaac Jordan (St. Paris Graham, Ohio), Mark Martin (St. Edward, Ohio), and Huston Evans (St. Paris Graham, Ohio). Expect similar wire-to-wire excitement in this 19th edition of the Walsh Ironman on December 7th and 8th. Page 82

2012 – Ironman XIX

By Josh Lowe

Heading into this XIX (19TH) edition of the Walsh Jesuit Ironman, three wrestlers had the chance to join a select few to win three championships at this tournament. And come Saturday evening, all three of them got the job done. They became the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth wrestlers to do so, joining an elite group that features United States Olympian Harry Lester among others.

In fact, it was a wrestler from Lester's alma mater – CVCA, Ohio – who earned the Bill Barger Outstanding Award after winning his third Ironman with a fall in the final. No. 1 Nathan Tomasello scored a fall at the 3:22 mark against No. 6 Matthew Kolodzik (Blair Academy, N.J.). The battle of Fargo champions was dominated from start to finish by Tomasello, who secured a fall off a takedown in the second period.

"It's amazing, words can't describe it, and I'm really happy," said Tomasello about winning both his third Ironman title and Outstanding Wrestler Award. "Since I made my college decision (to attend Ohio State) two months ago, I've been training for this tournament. Working out down at the Ohio RTC (with the Buckeye lower weights) was a real boost."

Joining Tomasello as a three-time state champion was fellow Ohio State recruit Bo Jordan (St. Paris Graham, Ohio), who is ranked No. 1 in the country at 160 pounds. Jordan won the evening's featured bout, a 4-2 victory over No. 2 Isaiah Martinez (Lemoore, Calif.), on the strength of a first period takedown and second period reversal.

During the tournament, Jordan had two pins, a 25-10 technical fall, and a 15-5 major decision in the semifinal over nationally ranked Myles Martin (McDonogh, Md.). "I just wanted to step it up this year, to get ready for next year (in college) when every match will be a dogfight," he commented. "I trained real hard for this, and have to continue to get better and keep developing (heading towards next year)."

The third of the three-time Ironman champions was No. 2 Brooks Black (Blair Academy, N.J.), who won the 285-pound weight class with a 5-1 victory over No. 9 Michael Johnson (Wyoming Seminary, Pa.) It was a very different match than last year's National Prep final that went to overtime. A takedown inside the first half-minute of the match and a third period reversal keyed the victory.

"It feels great to be a three-time champion (at the Ironman)," said Black. "I came into the event with no nerves, just ready to go and dominate. I've been working on my takedowns and pushing the pace (from neutral), and it showed here tonight."

Black was one of three champions for the nation's No. 1 team, Blair Academy, N.J. The Buccaneers dominated the team standings with 240-1/2 points. No. 6 (at 160) Russ Parsons and No. 5 Frank Mattiace won the 152 and 195 pound weight classes respectively.

Parsons had to use a late match takedown from a collar tie into a hi-c shot to score a 3-2 victory over freshman sensation Alex Marinelli (St. Paris Graham, Ohio) who had dominated the first close to five minutes of the match. "I really wasn't able to initiate offense early on," said Parsons. "I knew I had to turn it up in that last minute-plus, leave it all out there with no regrets."

Mattiace was absolutely dominant in winning his second title at the Walsh Ironman. Tonight's finals victory was a 10-0 major decision over Gabe Dzuro (St. Edward, Ohio) for the Penn commitment. Earlier matches in the tournament were two more major decisions and a pair of first period pins. "I wanted to have more offense this year, and not rely so heavily on my defense," said Mattiace. "Just to step up the attack (and point scoring) in my senior year."

Blair head coach Charles Danhof was relatively pleased with the performance. "I'm proud of the performance. The kids wrestled hard this weekend. However, there are things to work on, and it's great to have the two weeks between now and the Beast of the East."

Second place in the team standings was No. 2 Wyoming Seminary, Pa. with 156 points. Eric Morris, the nation's No. 1 182 pound wrestler, who won their lone weight class championship, anchored the Blue Knights. He earned a decisive 4-0 victory over No. 7 B.J. Toal (Troy Christian, Ohio) with a first period takedown and second period reversal.

"This is huge for me, it was one of my big goals for senior year," said Morris, who has won a whole litany of tournaments over the years. "I couldn't be happier, and I'm pleased with my improved offense."

No. 17 St. Paris Graham, Ohio who had 143 points with four finalists had a surprise third place finish in the standings. Joining Bo Jordan as a champion was No. 20 Eli Stickley, who beat No. 9 Jose Rodriguez (Massillon Perry, Ohio) 2-1 on a reversal very late in the match. Stickley had ridden out Rodriguez for the whole second but was hit for two stalling calls, and Rodriguez had ridden Stickley up to the point of the scramble and reversal.

"I believe it could happen, and it's all about the hard work I put into it," said Stickley about his championship. "It was crazy, my whole body was numb (during the match ending scramble). I just zoned in on (head coach) Jeff (Jordan), and when he was jumping crazy I knew it was mine."

Graham head coach Jeff Jordan was very pleased, but surprised by the performance. "Heading into the week, some of the parents asked what to expect: I told them top ten if things went well, it would have been crazy to predict this high a finish. The kids really stepped up."

Along with Blair Academy and St. Paris Graham, St. John Bosco, Calif. was the only other school to have multiple champions. No. 1 Zahid Valencia and No. 3 Aaron Pico won the 113 and 132 weight classes respectively. For Valencia, the nation's number one sophomore, it was a second Ironman title in as many years; and Pico won his initial Ironman, and is the nation's number two ninth grader overall.

Valencia had struggled for the first half of the match and trailed 3-1 at the halfway mark against No. 13

Ke-Shawn Hayes (Park Hill, Mo.). However, he scored a late takedown in the second period, kept Hayes down, and got the escape in the third. With no scoring through the end of the match, Valencia won 4-3. "I just had to keep the pace going, and finish my attacks through his defense" was the response in terms of his second half surge.

Pico faced No. 4 Micah Jordan (St. Paris Graham, Ohio) after Jordan had upset No. 1 Dean Heil (St. Edward, Ohio) 6-5 in the semifinal round on a takedown right at the end of the match. In this match, Pico scored a late takedown in the second period to take a 2-1 lead after two full periods. He added an escape to make it 3-1. Then, Jordan scored a takedown with just over 30 seconds to go; however, Jordan let Pico up immediately and couldn't score thereafter. It was a 4-3 Pico victory

"Watching Zahid (and Anthony) compete and thrive here last year, I was really excited," said Pico about his first Ironman. "I was anxious to start the season, and am glad to be here. One down, and three to go."

Valencia, Tomasello, and Bo Jordan were joined by another quartet of national No. 1 ranked wrestlers to win weight class titles, making it a full one-half of the weight classes at the Ironman to be won by the nation's top-ranked wrestler.

Joey Dance (Christiansburg, Va.) scored a 13-7 victory over unranked Judson Preskitt (Wyoming Seminary, Pa.) to win his first Ironman title in the 126-pound weight class. Two first period takedowns and four third period takedowns propelled the two-time Super 32 champion and 2011 Junior National freestyle champion.

"I've been here every year, it's always been a stacked bracket with me falling short," said Dance. "It feels great to finally get one, and I'm looking forward to the rest of the season."

Zain Retherford (Benton, Pa.) continued his winning ways with a title in the 138-pound weight class. After three pins and two major decisions, the championship final was extremely close, a 4-2 victory over No. 16 (at 145) Mason Manville (Blair Academy, N.J.). In fact, Manville got the match's first takedown, but Retherford escaped before the end of the first period. A second period escape and takedown provided the points needed for victory, as Manville went neutral in the third period.

"We each had a game plan," said Retherford about battling back from behind. "I just never stopped working. He was up after two (minutes), but I figure I got four more (minutes) to get points. It's all about the training – every practice, every lift, and every sprint. Do it at one thousand percent."

Cody Wiercioch (Canon McMillan, Pa.) added to two state titles and two Super 32 titles with a championship here in the 170-pound weight class. His championship match victory was a 3-2 decision over No. 3 Zach Epperly (Christiansburg, Va.). The match-winning takedown came in the third period off a single, and finished at the edge of the mat.

"It feels good, last one on the list, and glad to be able to compete here," said Wiercioch about the Ironman title. "I just had to find something, as Epperly was extremely strong and tight."

Kyle Snyder (Good Counsel, Md.) cut through his four matches like a knife through butter. This included a 26-11 technical fall in the finals over Alex Campbell (Canon-McMillan, Pa.) at the 4:54 mark. He had five first period takedowns, five-second period takedowns and a near fall, and onethird period takedown to the solo takedown from Campbell in the third period.

"I love winning, winning is great, it never gets old," said Snyder. "I've got really high goals. Every practice and match, I have to do something to get better."

Finally among the champions was Edgar Bright (St. Edward, Ohio), who is ranked No. 4 at 145 pounds, and scored a 3-2 victory over the unranked junior Jacob Danishek (Dayton Christian) – who is a two-time small-school state champion. A second period takedown by Bright was the key score within the match.

"(The state finals loss) fueled me a lot all summer," said Bright, who is a two-time state runner-up. "I'm a senior this year. There is no way I should be second fiddle to anyone, and I'm putting the time in to assure that." Page 85

2013 – Ironman XXI

By Josh Lowe

The 20th annual Walsh Jesuit Ironman certainly lived up to its position as the nation's best in-season tournament. A cast of the nation's elite won weight class titles, and many of the nation's top teams did battle over the two-day event. At the end of the two days, every person at Walsh Jesuit High School had to feel like it was truly worth being a part.

In mid-November there was concern that No. 1 Blair Academy, N.J. would be unable to attend the event due to NFHS regulatory issues. However, those resolved themselves; and the Buccaneers won their third straight Ironman title, fifth in six years scoring 207-1/2 points.

Key to their tournament title was a 6-1 record in quarterfinal matches, followed by a 4-2 record in semifinal matches, and then having three wrestlers earn weight class titles. Champions for tops in the nation Blair Academy were No. 3 Matthew Kolodzik (126), No. 2 Joey McKenna (138), and No. 3 at 152 Dylan Milonas (160). Additional placers for the Buccaneers were No. 8 at 145 Mason Manville, who took second at 152 pounds; No. 9 Charles Tucker (120) and Jordan Kutler (132) taking fifth fifth; while Brandon Dallavia (170) and David Showunmi (195) took sixth.

"It was a good performance, especially for it being the start of the season," said head coach Solomon Fleckman. "However, we do have things to work on going forward."

Kolodzik, runner-up as a freshman and sophomore at the Ironman, earned his first title in dominant fashion. He earned two wins by fall on Friday, had major decisions over a pair of nationally ranked wrestlers in the quarterfinals and semifinals, and then upended Eli Seipel (St. Paris Graham) 5-0 on takedowns in the first and third period.

A native of Bellbrook, which is in southwest Ohio, Kolodzik has worked out with Seipel for years. "We've wrestled each other (in practice) hundreds of times," said Kolodzik, "All throughout the summers at (Jeff) Jordan's Wrestling Camps from 7-9 PM." About winning that elusive title, "it's certainly a relief, but it feels good."

The senior McKenna was fifth and second at the Ironman as a freshman and sophomore before missing last year's event due to an injury. His championship bout, a 3-1 victory over No. 4 at 132 Michael Kemerer (Franklin Regional, Pa.), was keyed by a first period takedown. Last year at the POWERade, which was McKenna's first tournament back in competition, Kemerer won the meeting between them by a 2-1 decision in the semifinals.

"There was a revenge factor in play," said McKenna. "I felt more confident this time around because I was ready to go, and knew I was bigger as he had been down at 132 for Who's Number One."

Fellow senior Milonas was champion at the Ironman as a sophomore and finished third last year. However, after placing third at the Beast of the East and runner-up at the POWERade, he was out the rest of the season due to injury. Milonas also did not compete during the summer in either the Junior Duals or Fargo (Junior Nationals) in freestyle.

"My coaches (Buxton, Grey, Clavel, etc.) and teammates (McKenna, Coover, etc.) did a good job of keeping me going," said Milonas. "It feels good to be back on the mat, and able to prove to the (wrestling public) that I'm a high level wrestler."

Milonas won his finals match by fall at the 4:51 mark, one in which he scored takedowns in the first and second period before scoring the fall from a sequence which started with he had a 5-1 advantage. The win came against sophomore Alex Marinelli (St. Paris Graham), who is ranked No. 5 in the nation and now is a two-time Walsh Ironman runnerup.

The individual star of stars was Spencer Lee (Franklin Regional, Pa.), the champion at 113 pounds. The nation's top-ranked wrestler in the weight class, and also the top overall freshman in the country, won both the Most Outstanding Wrestler award and the Ray Mendoza Award (scoring the most team points in the tournament).

The sensational freshman earned 35-1/2 points for his squad earning two pins, three technical falls, and a 12-2 major decision. One of those two pins came in the championship finals bout against Anthony Bosco (Marmion Academy, Ill.) at the 1:44 mark. In that match, Lee had already opened the bout with a takedown and scored two other threepoint near falls prior to securing the fall.

"I want to be a FILA Cadet world champ (in freestyle)," said Lee, when asked about his motivation to continue his level of dominance. "I honestly didn't expect to win the (Outstanding Wrestler) awards, but it feels great."

Another pair of individual stars was the Valencia brothers from St. John Bosco, Calif. Zahid, ranked No. 5 nationally at 132 pounds, won a third Ironman title in as many years with a 5-3 victory over No. 6 Brock Ervin (Union County, Ky.). Valencia scored a takedown in the opening stanza, and then with the match tied at 3-3, scored a takedown in the third period to earn the victory. Should Zahid win next year, he will join David Taylor (St. Paris Graham, Ohio/Penn State) as the only four-time champions in the event's history.

“This was something I trained for (all off-season),” said Zahid, about winning a third Ironman title. “I’m already looking forward to the chance to win a fourth next year.”

Anthony, ranked No. 6 nationally at 170 pounds, wrestled in the evening’s last match – the main event. He earned an 8-2 victory over No. 5 Myles Martin (McDonogh, Md.). Both wrestlers are ranked among the top 11 Class of 2015 wrestlers in the country and have very explosive and dynamic attacks. However, on this evening, it was Valencia’s time to shine.

“Always being a lighter weight (138/145 last year), wrestling last was totally new to me,” said Valencia. “However, I was very prepared, getting my warm-up timing right. Right after seeing Zahid win, I started getting ready to wrestle.”

Second place in the team standings with a stellar performance was St. Paris Graham, scoring 171 points on the strength of seven placers, six of whom are underclassmen. The Falcons have now finished inside the top four at the Walsh Ironman for thirteen consecutive seasons. Head coach Jeff Jordan was truly elated with his team’s performance, “What more could I ask for? Everyone stepped it up this weekend, and multiple wrestlers bounced back very well from losses to place rather high.”

The lone Graham champion was the lone senior placer Micah Jordan, who is ranked No. 2 in the country at 145 pounds. Jordan, runner-up last year in this tournament, had a huge win in the semifinals; 7-1 over Solomon Chishko (Canon-McMillan, Pa.), the No. 3 ranked wrestler in the country, on the strength of late takedowns in each period. However, the finals match against No. 6 Alfred Bannister (Bishop McNamara, Md.) was razor tight. The wrestlers traded escapes, but a second stalling call against Bannister with thirty seconds left gave Jordan the deciding point.

“I couldn’t get my offense going (tonight),” said Jordan. “Bannister’s defense was just too good. However, to win Ironman is an honor. It’s one of the four things we peak for as a program: the St. Edward dual, the Blair Academy dual, the state tournament, and this.”

Prior to the tournament, the team projected to finish second was No. 2 Oak Park River Forest, Ill. However, the Huskies finished in third place with 154-1/2 points. Like St. Paris Graham, they had seven wrestlers place; however, only one was a finalist, Jason Renteria who took second at 106 pounds. OPRF also had one third, fourth fifth place finishes, and an eighth place finish.

“This is a wake-up call for our team,” head coach Mike Powell said. “There were too many inconsistencies in our team’s performance.” However, Powell also took pride in his team placing seven kids in the nation’s toughest inseason tournament.

Three number one ranked wrestlers in their weight class entered the tournament. Two of them won weight class titles this weekend. Joining Spencer Lee in doing so was Bo Nickal (Allen, Texas) at 182 pounds. Nickal dominated his first three matches with a trio of first-period falls; however, he had a narrow 6-5 victory in the semifinal against No. 6 Corey Griego (Sultana, Calif.) before a 5-1 victory in the final against Rocco Caywood (Perrysburg, Ohio).

That 5-1 score is slightly deceptive, as all of Nickal’s scoring came in the first period. He scored the match’s opening takedown and secured a three point near fall later in the period. However, Nickal chose down in the second period and got ridden for the full two minutes. Then, Caywood chose top in the third period, rode Nickal for the full two minutes with Nickal also being hit for two stalling calls.

“It’s a real priority for me,” said Nickal about starting matches strong. “Getting that first takedown is always something I want. However, these last two matches showed that I have things to work on going forward.”

Failing to win his weight class as a No. 1 ranked wrestler in the country was Andrew Dixon (Edmond North, Okla.) who did not even earn a placement at 220 pounds. He lost in the quarterfinal 5-4 to Austin Pfarr (Marysville, Ohio). Dixon had the match’s only takedown; however, a third caution late in the third period equalized it 3-3 to force overtime, and then a fourth caution in the tiebreakers was enough for Pfarr after the wrestlers traded escapes in the :30-:30.

Dixon then lost 5-3 to Stefano Millin (Massillon Perry, Ohio) in the consolation round of 12. Even with that underperformance, and some other placement results below projection, No. 16 Edmond North still finished fourth in the standings with 114-1/2 points.

“We had some obvious hiccups, but all in all, we hoped to place top five coming in and we did that,” said head coach Andy Schneider.

The Huskies did get a champion in No. 4 Derek White, who was dominant up to the final with a pair of pins in a combined two minutes on Friday before major decisions in the quarterfinal and semifinal rounds. However, the finals match was tighter, a 3-2 decision over Tegray Scales (Colerain, Ohio), keyed by a first period takedown.

"I feel comfortable with a variety of attacks, it makes the opponents unsure of what I'm going to do," said White. "Winning the Ironman (in mostly dominant fashion) is something to be very happy about."

After the upset over Andrew Dixon, Pfarr did advance to the final at 220 pounds, where he ran into No. 17 Edgar Ruano (Montini Catholic, Ill.). This time, Ruano got the only takedown and made that stand up in a 3-2 finals victory.

Ruano was a defensive tackle on the state runner-up Broncos football team, which played its last game two weeks ago. He came straight into wrestling from football. "The coaches did an awesome job getting me ready to wrestle this weekend," he said. "It feels good to win the tournament, and it's a great start to the season."

Montini Catholic picked up a second weight class champion in No. 6 Michael Johnson, who won the 285 pound final 2-1 over Cale Bonner (Perrysburg, Ohio). The match was scoreless in the first with each wrestler hit for a stalling warning, and then Johnson rode Bonner out in the second period and earned an immediate escape in the third period. Both wrestlers were hit for a second stalling call in the third period as well.

Like his teammate Ruano, Johnson was on the Broncos' football team, though he played on the offensive line. "It's great to be back at home," said Johnson, who was at Wyoming Seminary as a freshman and sophomore. "Earning this title is something I've wanted, and it was great to do it together (with Ruano)."

Winning the 106 pound title was Tyler Warner (Claymont, Ohio), who is ranked No. 4 in the nation at the weight class. He upended No. 12 Renteria in a 12-2 major decision. Warner controlled the whole match, scoring in each period and controlling all the positions. His older brother Dustin also placed at the Ironman, finishing sixth at 113 pounds.

"We make each other better," said Tyler about Dustin. "He's always on me about everything, and wants the best for me, as does my other brother Kyle (who is an assistant coach, after placing four times at state from 2009-2012)."

It was another pair of nationally ranked wrestlers meeting for the title at 120 pounds, as No. 6 at 126 KeShawn Hayes (Park Hill, Mo.) upended Brent Fleetwood (Smyrna, Del.) by a 3-0 score. This mat was more or less decided on the mat, as Hayes scored a two-point near fall in the second period to provide the crucial points. It came late in the period towards the edge of the mat.

"I just had to keep working for it," said Hayes about seeking the riding and turn even after being hit for stalling on top. "The back points were there, but I just had to keep in the right position and finish it right then."

Hayes then chose down in the third, was ridden for most of the period, but Fleetwood was unable to get near fall points. With about fifteen seconds left, Hayes got the escape, and with that improved upon his runner-up finish from last year's Ironman tournament.

Finally among the weight class champions is another wrestler who moved from second last year to first this year, No. 2 Jacob Danishek (Dayton Christian, Ohio) at 152 pounds. Danishek upended No. 8 at 145 Mason Manville (Blair Academy, N.J.), who also was an Ironman runner-up, by a 4-2 score. He was able to score a reversal and a takedown during the second period.

"I knew I had to follow my plan," said Danishek about facing such a tough opponent on top and in terms of defense in neutral. "Winning the title obviously feels great, especially after finishing just short last year."

2014 – Ironman XXI

By Josh Lowe

The hype and attention around the Walsh Jesuit Ironman is unreal on a year-to-year basis. It is like Daytona 500 of the high school wrestling season, and lord knows did it deliver with flying colors this year. Major stories were abound from both the team dynamic, with the top four teams in the country competing for the title on day two; and the individual as well, with eleven wrestlers ranked either first or second on the brackets.

The medal matches on Saturday night in Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio started with the 195 pound weight class, so the proceedings would end with the 182 pound matches. This final was a showdown of the nation's top two ranked wrestlers in the weight class, Zahid Valencia (St. John Bosco, Calif.) and Myles Martin (McDonogh, Md.). Also on the line in this match was a potential fourth Ironman title for Valencia, who would become just the second wrestler to be a four-time Ironman champion; the other being David Taylor (St. Paris Graham, Ohio), who would go on to be a four-time national finalist and two-time Hodge Trophy winner at Penn State.

What the match was lacking for in action, as each wrestler only had one meaningful deep leg attack during the first seven minutes of the bout, the drama trumped that by a factor of tens. Martin and Valencia would trade escapes during the second and third periods, as well as in the thirty-second tiebreaker periods. Then, in the ultimate tiebreaker, Martin chose down. Therefore, Valencia needed to ride out Martin, who had escaped quickly twice earlier in the match, to make history.

“All that was on my mind was number four,” said Valencia after the match. “I wanted it so bad, and God gave me the strength to pull it out.”

That is what happened, as over the course of multiple sequences, he was able to prevent Martin from earning the escape during the 30 second ultimate tiebreaker period. That fourth Ironman title gave Valencia a piece of history, and the tournament’s Most Outstanding Wrestler award.

Two other phenoms from St. John Bosco added Ironman titles on Saturday night to already robust resumes, Cade Olivas (106) and Anthony Valencia (170), who both also are ranked No. 1 regardless of weight class in their respective grades.

Olivas, just a freshman, added to an already robust wrestling resume with an 8-3 championship match victory against No. 9 Drew Mattin (Delta, Ohio). Cade scored a takedown in each period, adding a two-point near fall with the takedown he scored in the first period.

“I come in with the same game plan for every match,” responded Olivas when asked about how high school is different than his previous wrestling. “I’ve gotten the job done with it so far (over his youth wrestling career), so why change.”

Four of five matches for Anthony Valencia were decided by major decision or pin, which included a 12-3 victory in the championship final against No. 5 Kamal Bey (Oak Park River Forest, Ill.). Both wrestlers started the match of strong, as each threw the other at the edge of the mat, but was unable to score. However, Anthony would get the action started with a five point-move midway through the first period.

He then added an additional takedown in each period on the way to earning a second consecutive title at the Walsh Ironman. “Experience,” was what Anthony cited for why he was able to come out on top in the key flurry situations of the match.

“Doing it again means a lot,” added Anthony about repeating as champion. “In fact it means more than winning the first one.”

Heading into the tournament’s second day, the top four teams in the country were within five points of one another in the standings. After the quarterfinal round, No. 3 Wyoming Seminary, Pa. kind of bowed out due to a 2-6 performance. However, No. 1 Blair Academy, N.J. (6-2), No. 2 Oak Park River Forest, Ill. (5-2), and No. 4 St. Paris Graham, Ohio (6-2) were all packed together.

Then, at high noon the fourth-ranked Falcons came out on fire, as they pulled five wrestlers into the championship final – as opposed to the trio that Blair Academy and OPRF were able to advance. The sizzle continued on Saturday night, as St. Paris Graham would see three of its wrestlers earn weight class titles on the way to a team title with 211 points (Blair Academy was second with 189.5)

Champions for St. Paris Graham were No. 11 Mitch Moore (113), No. 10 Eli Seipel (126), and No. 6 Alex Marinelli (160).

The freshman sensation Moore beat his third nationally ranked wrestler of the tournament on Saturday night in a 6-1 decision over No. 4 Jason Renteria (Oak Park River Forest, Ill.), who is now a two-time Ironman runner-up. Moore scored a takedown with near falls in the first period, rode Renteria out in the second period, and added a third period takedown for the comprehensive victory.

“I’ve been coming here since I was little to watch the tournament,” said the freshman sensation Moore. “While alone in the (wrestling) room with (head coach) Jeff (Jordan) after last weekend’s tournament, I told him I would win (this Ironman title).”

Seipel happened not to have to face a single ranked wrestler on the way to his title, which was a one-step improvement from last year's runner-up finish. The championship victory came against Coltan Williams (Trinity Christian Academy, Texas), who had beaten No. 4 Austin Assad (Brecksville, Ohio) 6-5 in the tiebreakers during the semifinal.

Seipel scored takedowns in the first and second period of the championship bout to give the necessary margin in a 72 finals victory. "It's great to go out on top at the Ironman," said Seipel about both his individual title and the Falcons' team title. "Now I want to help us get that national title."

The junior Marinelli was in his third Ironman final, and third against a Blair Academy wrestler, having fallen short against Russ Parsons and Dylan Milonas the previous two seasons. On this occasion, he would be going against defending Ironman champion Mason Manville, who is ranked No. 2 nationally at 160 pounds.

The wrestlers traded escapes in regulation, while Marinelli had the best scoring chance, as he got deep in on a single leg attack during the third period. However, Manville was able to defend his way out of the situation. Then in overtime, on a virtually identical setup and finish, Marinelli was that bit crisper and got the takedown and 3-1 victory.

"I work to my position, get (Manville) out of his," said Marinelli about his match strategy in the final against an opponent whose positioning and defense is supreme. "Stalk, creep, push, attack. Just good Iowa style wrestling."

In addition to the three weight class champions, St. Paris Graham added runner-up finishes from No. 9 Eli Stickley (120) and Rocky Jordan (132), a fourth from No. 12 Brent Moore (145), a fifth from Justin Stickley (106), a sixth from Garrett Jordan (170), and a seventh from No. 13 Kyle Lawson (152).

"I thought we could win, but there were a lot of question marks," said Falcons' head coach Jeff Jordan about his pretournament expectation. "It ended up coming down to the young guys and a couple unexpected kids stepping it up."

It is likely that St. Paris Graham will jump up to No. 1 nationally on Wednesday in the Fab50, and they are scheduled to make a trip to current No. 1 Blair Academy, N.J. for a dual meet in three weeks. "We have to keep at it, and working towards that match," added Jordan. "It's going to be a tough one out there."

Speaking of Blair Academy, they had one singular champion, and that was No. 13 David Showunmi at 220 pounds. In a weight class where he was the lone nationally ranked wrestler, Showunmi did not give up a single offensive point all tournament. The championship bout was a 7-2 victory over James Ford (Worthington Kilbourn, Ohio); Showunmi scoring a takedown in each period.

"It feels good to break-through (on the national scene)," said Showunmi, who will be attending Stanford next year, though he's unsure if he'll end up at 197 or 285.

Like champions St. Paris Graham, the runner-up Buccaneers also placed nine wrestlers. In addition to their champion Showunmi, No. 1 Matthew Kolodzik (138) and No. 2 Mason Manville (160) finished in second; No. 3 Charles Tucker (132), No. 10 Jordan Kutler (152), and No. 6 Brandon Dallavia (170) earned third; Neil Putnam (195) was seventh; while Zach Sherman (113) and Chase Singletary (182) took eighth.

Blair Academy first-year head coach Brian Antonelli credited the champion Falcons on their performance, "They were darn tough, they were prepared, they came to win, and they more than deserved the championship."

"There was some good, and some not so good about the team performance," added Antonelli. "We do have a lot to work on going forward. In particular, getting escapes, not giving up reversals, and just closing out matches and situations."

Finishing third in the standings, almost 40 points behind St. Paris Graham was No. 2 Oak Park River Forest, Ill. The Huskies placed eight wrestlers, and they were without probably their second best wrestler – Larry Early, who is ranked No. 4 nationally at 145 pounds. Winning a championship was Isaiah White at 152 pounds, where he is ranked No. 2 nationally.

White came through in the finals of the tournament's toughest weight class with a 3-1 overtime victory against No. 3 Vincenzo Joseph (Pittsburgh Central Catholic, Pa.). The wrestlers traded escapes in regulation, before White timed up a beautiful low single into an elevated finish for the sudden victory.

"I wasn't gonna lose," said White about the overtime in the final. "I trained all summer and fall for this moment."

He also earned narrow victories over two other nationally ranked wrestlers earlier on Saturday; White upended No. 4 Josh Maruca (Franklin Regional, Pa.) 6-4 in the tiebreaker during the semifinal, and previously beat No. 13 Kyle Lawson (St. Paris Graham, Ohio) 3-1 in the quarterfinal.

The Huskies went 1-2 in finals like Blair Academy, as Renteria and Bey finished in second place. Also placing were No. 11 Anthony Madrigal (106) in third, No. 14 Matthew Rundell (160) in fifth, Alex Madrigal (120) in sixth, as well as No. 17 Gabe Townsell (126) and Ben Bergen (195) in eighth.

“We did pretty well,” said Oak Park River Forest head coach Paul Collins about his team’s performance, “especially being short-handed (no Early and also no state qualifier Allen Stallings at 220). However, we still can improve, especially in terms of toughness.”

Two other number one in the nation wrestlers, both from Franklin Regional (Pa.) both won weight class titles on Saturday evening – Spencer Lee (120) and Michael Kemerer (145).

Lee, who is also ranked No. 1 overall in the sophomore class, dominated No. 9 Stickley in the championship match by 13-2 major decision. The story was told in the first period, one that ended up with Lee on top 8-0 after a takedown and two sets of three-point near falls. Lee added a takedown in the second period, but did give up a takedown late in the third period.

Given Lee’s early-career success, there’s a ton of expectation and coverage surrounding his wrestling. A FILA Cadet world freestyle title, two Super 32 titles, now two Ironman titles will do that. However, he tries to keep in the moment. “I work hard on relaxing, as I’ll get so tight it consumes energy,” commented Lee. “I tell myself to have fun, you’ve got to love the sport to enjoy and achieve, so just relax.”

Kemerer came through on Saturday night with a 7-1 decision over Wade Hodges (Wauseon, Ohio) for his first Ironman title after finishing as runner-up last year. Takedowns in the first and second period, along

“It’s great to have people to work with on a daily basis that test me,” said Kemerer about having elite level teammates right around him in weight (Maruca and Josh Shields). “We’ve been practicing together for years, and it helps us all get better.”

A number one wrestler that fell short on Saturday was Matthew Kolodzik (Blair Academy, N.J.), who lost in overtime by 5-3 decision to No. 5 Davion Jeffries (Broken Arrow, Okla.). Kolodzik scored the opening takedown, and led 3-1 after two periods. However, Jeffries came through with a reversal just after the halfway point of the third period, and rode it out to force overtime.

Then, in the overtime, Jeffries scored off of counter action to a double leg attack. “I had been preparing for (his) offense all week, along with No. 2 Ke-Shawn Hayes (who scratched prior to the tournament). All the hard work paid off (in an Ironman title).”

Rounding out the weight class champions were No. 8 Cameron Kelly (Bellbrook, Ohio) at 132 pounds, Dylan Reynolds (Saegertown, Pa.) at 195, and No. 8 Kevin Vough (Elyria, Ohio) at 285.

Kelly upended freshman sensation Rocky Jordan (St. Paris Graham, Ohio) by 3-1 decision in the final, the difference being a second period takedown. That came after Jordan beat No. 3 Charles Tucker (Blair Academy, N.J.) 6-4, and Kelly beat two-time state champion Jarred Ganger (Covington, Ohio) 4-2 in their semifinal bouts.

“Winning this title feels great, and it validates the hard work,” said Kelly. “Especially after falling just short of placing at both Fargo and Super 32. The wrestling was there (at those two), but the conditioning fell short, not today though.”

Reynolds beat nationally ranked wrestlers in the semifinal and final to win his title, 3-2 over No. 17 Bailey Faust (Lexington, Ohio) in the semifinal and 7-6 over No. 13 Matt Stencel (Oregon Clay, Ohio) in the final. Reynolds scored a pair of takedowns in the first period, and persevered through the last four minutes of the bout.

“Getting early takedowns is something I do to get me going,” said Reynolds. “It helps me feel comfortable and safe though the rest of the match.”

Though Vough was ranked below No. 3 Tate Orndorff (Unviersity, Wash.), Vough is now 2-0 against Orndorff in folkstyle competition, the previous meeting happening at the Flo Nationals. Both wrestlers were extraordinarily aggressive with upper-body ties throughout the match. Orndorff was successful for a takedown in the first period, while Vough scored the pin off a toss at the 3:45 mark.

2015 - Ironman XXII

New champions, new number one's. Two of the storylines from the 22nd Walsh Jesuit Ironman Tournament that came to its conclusion on Saturday evening in Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio.

Despite not having the services of Chris Weiler, a top 20 overall senior committed to Lehigh University, No. 2 Wyoming Seminary, Pa. emerged as tournament champions with solid performances – and some over-performances – from across the lineup. Ranked No. 2 in the nation entering the tournament, the Blue Knights placed eight within the top six, a ninth that was one match from placement, and saw 11 of 13 rostered wrestlers score points along the way.

As expected, superstars Nick Reenan (No. 1 at 182) and Mason Manville (No. 2 at 152) came through with titles. However, just as important were podium finishes from unranked wrestlers such as Jack Davis (4th at 120), Patrick Munn (5th at 138), and Will Verallis (4th at 160). Rounding out the medalists for Wyoming Seminary were No. 18 Trent Olson (6th at 132), No. 11 Christian Dietrich (4th at 195), and No. 9 (at 220) Will Hilliard (2nd at 220). They scored a total of 171 points, which was enough to out-point No. 1 Blair Academy (N.J.), who had 146 points from seven total medalists.

It was the first team championship at the Walsh Ironman for the Blue Knights, who became just the fifth school to ever win a title in the event, joining the host school which won the initial title; as well as Blair Academy, St. Paris Graham (Ohio), and St. Edward (Ohio).

Another new number one will be needed on the individual weight class side of things, as in the evening's last bout, No. 3 David Carr (Massillon Perry, Ohio) rode out No. 1 Jarod Verkleeren (Belle Vernon Area, Pa.) in the ultimate tiebreaker to win the title at 145 pounds. The wrestlers traded takedowns in the first two periods, and were tied 3-3 at the end of regulation.

After a scoreless sudden victory overtime period, action moved to the tiebreakers. Verkleeren chose down in the first thirty second segment, scoring an escape; Carr chose down in his segment, and scored his point when Verkleeren was called for locking hands midway through the stanza. Then, the ultimate tiebreaker saw Verkleeren choose the down position, and get ridden out by Carr. The No. 3 wrestler in the country emerged with the victory over the top-ranked wrestler, and also a UWW Cadet World freestyle champion this summer.

The lone wrestler to win a second Ironman title on Saturday night was Alex Marinelli (St. Paris Graham, Ohio), the nation's top 160 pound wrestler and a commit to the University of Iowa. In his fourth finals appearance at the Ironman, with only eight before him achieving the feat, Marinelli dominated his way to a pin in 4:26 against No. 13 Justin Thomas (Calvary Chapel, Pa.) in the evening's second match. The overall tournament merited Marinelli distinction as the tournament's Most Outstanding Wrestler.

In the evening's opening bout, the eighth wrestler in tournament history to make the finals four times took to the mat. With a comprehensive performance, No. 2 Mason Manville (Wyoming Seminary, Pa.) avoided the ignominy of being the first-ever four-time runner-up in Ironman history. A takedown in each period yielded Manville the 8-1 win over No. 7 Evan Wick (San Marino, Calif.) in the 152 pound final.

The lone champion for Blair Academy had an impressive tournament with three wins over nationally ranked opponents, No. 5 Chase Singletary came through with takedowns in the first and second period of a 5-1 win over No. 10 Jack Harris (Urbana, Ohio) in the 195 pound final. Earlier wins saw Singletary defeat No. 11 Christian Dietrich (Wyoming Seminary, Pa.) 2-2 in an ultimate tiebreak rideout during the quarterfinal, and then upend No. 4 Ben Darmstadt (Elyria, Ohio) 8-4 in the semifinal bout.

Other medalists for Blair were runner-up No. 18 Zach Sherman (120), third place finishers No. 2 Brandon Dallavia (170) and Neil Putnam (285), fifth place finishers No. 17 Michael Colaiocco (106) and No. 19 Ryan Karoly (160), along with sixth place finisher Chris Cannon (113).

Joining Wyoming Seminary as the only other team to have multiple weight class champions was Montini Catholic, Ill. The No. 40 ranked team in the country finished fourth in the standings with 118.5 points, anchored by the titles from No. 6 Real Woods (113) and No. 6 Dylan Duncan (132). Duncan won his title 1-0 over No. 12 Navonte Demison (Bakersfield, Calif.), keyed by a second period rideout, then followed by a third period escape.

The tournament run for Woods was arguably the most impressive by any of the 440 competitors to step on the mats at Walsh Jesuit this weekend. The 113 pound champion opened the tournament on Friday with a second period pin and 25-10 technical fall to reach the quarterfinal, where he beat No. 12 Jordan Decatur (CVCA, Ohio) 11-4. Woods then beat No. 17 Tommy Hoskins (Dayton Christian, Ohio) by a 13-5 major decision in the semifinal. In the championship match, it was a 3-0 victory over now two-time Ironman runner-up Drew Mattin (Delta, Ohio); Woods scored his points against the No. 2 113 pound wrestler in the country on a first period takedown and second period penalty point.

Three other wrestlers medaled for the Broncos: runner-up Will Lewan (138); third place finisher Joey Melendez, No. 11 at 106 pounds; and Jimmy Pawleski, eighth at 126 pounds.

From the standpoint of the national rankings, three other champions joined Carr and Woods in earning at least perceived upset wins based on the national rankings.

At 106 pounds, Nate Keaton (Circleville, Ohio) scored a 5-4 victory over No. 2 Dylan D'Emilio (Genoa, Ohio). Keaton scored takedowns in the first and third period to key his victory. It was a second win over ranked opposition in the tournament, as he beat No. 14 Christian Nunez (St. John Bosco, Calif.) 3-2 in the quarterfinal.

At 170 pounds, No. 9 Austin Bell (Belle Vernon Area, Pa.) earned a decisive 5-1 victory over No. 7 Jeremy Thomas (Calvary Chapel, Calif.), a match keyed by takedowns in the first and third periods. Bell also earned a 4-0 victory over No. 2 Brandon Dallavia (Blair Academy, N.J.) in the semifinal bout.

At 285 pounds, Kameron Teacher (Central Crossing, Ohio) pinned No. 9 (at 220) Will Hilliard (Wyoming Seminary, Pa.) midway through the third period at the 5:15 off a beautiful low shot that turned into a throw. It was the second pin of the tournament for Teacher, which was sandwiched by a pair of seven point decisions.

Two other top-ranked wrestlers joined Marinelli as Walsh Ironman champions on Saturday night.

At 120 pounds, Jack Mueller (Trinity Christian Academy, Texas) capped off a dominant tournament with 15-4 major decision over No. 18 Zach Sherman (Blair Academy, N.J.). His five prior matches in the tournament were two falls sandwiched by three technical falls. The 35-1/2 team points Mueller accrued enabled him to win the Major Ray Mendoza Award at tournament's end.

Reenan scored a 7-5 victory over No. 6 Jacob Warner (Washington, Ill.) at 182 pounds. The bulk of the match's scoring came in the first period with Reenan earning two takedowns and a reversal to counter Warner scoring one takedown and two escapes for a 6-4 lead; the wrestlers traded escapes in the last two periods.

Additional weight class champions by order of occurrence on Saturday night were No. 3 Matt Stencil (Oregon Clay, Ohio) at 220 pounds, No. 20 Tariq Wilson (Steubenville, Ohio) at 126, and No. 5 Hunter Ladnier (St. Edward, Ohio) at 138.

Stencil earned five pins from five matches on the way to a championship, as he was only on the mat for 10 minutes and 25 seconds during the tournament. The championship match fall came at the 3:48 mark over freshman sensation Cohlton Schultz (Ponderosa, Colo.), who is ranked No. 17 overall at the 220 pound weight class.

Wilson earned an 8-6 victory over Cole Matthews (Reynolds, Pa.) in his championship match. Takedowns in each period counter-acted a second period reversal for Matthews and two third period penalty points; the wrestlers traded choice escapes, while Wilson's eight point came on a third caution penalty for Matthews late in the bout. Wilson earned wins over ranked 120 pound wrestlers in both the quarterfinal and semifinal; a 7-5 victory over No. 8 Tyler Warner (Claymont), which avenged a state finals loss, as well as a 9-1 major decision over No. 17 Mario Guillen (Perrysburg).

Ladnier earned his third major decision of the tournament in his 9-1 finals victory over Will Lewan (Montini Catholic, Ill.). A takedown and tilt in the first period was followed up by takedowns in each of the last two periods during the Harvard commit's decisive victory. Two other major decisions and a pin were accrued in four other matches; the lone close match for Ladnier coming in a 1-0 quarterfinal victory over J.J. Figueroa (Bakersfield, Calif.), a victory keyed by a rideout during the period Figueroa chose bottom.
